Opposing Camps.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, April 10.—The result in Illinois was not unexpected to those familiar with the situation, said Congressman McKinley, director of the National Taft Bureau, today, in the first comment from the President's side on the Illinois primary.

"The issue which occupied the attention of the people of the State was so peculiarly local as to cause the real issue to be lost sight of, so far as President Taft was concerned, and so far as the delegates were concerned."

"I say this advisedly," Mr. McKinley continued, "and for this reason: Mr. Roosevelt, recently invaded the State and devoted the major portion of his address to subjects which had no relation whatever, for the most part, to the issues on which the Democratic party must meet the Democratic party in November."

"The question," discussed by Mr. Roosevelt in his speech, had little to do with the actual issues, which he has raised between himself and Mr. Taft.

"In other words, Mr. Roosevelt participated in the campaign in Illinois with all the freedom of a full-fledged citizen of the State and met and talked to voters of Illinois on the subjects which were uppermost in their minds—namely, State issues."

"The participation of eight candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor resulted in the complete breaking down of all party organization and new alignments were brought about."

"These new organizations Mr. Roosevelt was able to reach by personal contact, an experience which President Taft could not enjoy."

"The result in Illinois has no bearing whatever on the outcome of the Presidential contest in the Republican party except in so far as it expresses the desire of Illinois based on purely local issues."

"I have never, in any public statement, claimed a single delegate from Illinois in the Chicago convention, and I have never included any in my calculations, when I have said repeatedly that President Taft will have more votes in the Chicago convention this year than he had in 1908, when he received 162 votes. I repeat that prediction now, and am absolutely confident of its vindication."

"In no other State in the Union are conditions existing where Mr. Roosevelt can make the same kind of a campaign as he did in Illinois. To the voters of other States he will have to confine himself to the national issues, including the proposal of the recall of judges and the third-term issue."

DIXON'S STATEMENT.
"The day of the hand-picked, machine-made delegate to nominate a Presidential candidate is over," said Senator Dixon in Roosevelt headquarters. "The day of the nomination of the candidates by the direct expression of the will of the voters has come."

"The Republicans of Illinois, by an avalanche majority of 120,000 have served notice that they are unalterably opposed to the reactionary policies of Taft and to the reactionary bosses to whom he has permitted his managers to commit his political fortunes."

"The overwhelming sentiment in favor of the nomination of Col. Roosevelt has at last forced itself home on the administration managers. The time has come when the Republican voters of the country will no longer take orders either from the White House or the machine representatives of big business as to their candidate for the Presidency."

STATED IN FIGURES.
The Roosevelt national headquarters claimed for Col. Roosevelt 130 delegates, with other figures as follows:
Taft, 40; La Follette, 36; Cummins, 4; unindicated, 94; contested, 148.

The Taft headquarters, omitting the fifty-eight Illinois delegates, gave the following figures on the ground that the final figures as to the various districts were not yet available, made the following claims of delegates:
Taft, 318; Roosevelt, 29; La Follette, 36; Cummins, 4.

Money Disappears.
EL PASO (Tex.) April 10.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The three Mexican Central Railroad employees who attempted to save $4,000 from the company's funds by running it here on a stolen train from Chihuahua were captured today but the money was not recovered. The prisoners were taken back to Chihuahua.

MOTHER LEAVES CHILD AT RAILWAY STATION.

DELIBERATELY abandoned by its mother, a smiling baby girl about 18 months old was found in the women's waiting room at the Pacific Electric Depot, at 11 o'clock last night, and was brought to police headquarters until a home can be found for her.

According to information in the hands of the police, a well-dressed and fine-appearing young woman, hatless and wearing a check dress partially covered by a long cloak, entered the station a few minutes previous and occupied one of the seats in the waiting-room as if expecting someone.

Later the woman approached Alma and Juanita Doust, sisters, 15 and 13 years old, respectively, and said that she wanted to telephone to a friend and requested the girls to care for the baby during her temporary absence.

Both girls accepted the charge and the mother disappeared. Palling to of him. It is not in human nature that judges shall hold the scales just as evenly when they know that they themselves will be the sacrificers. It will introduce the rule of cowardice in place of the rule of courage. It will introduce the rule of time-serving in place of the rule of fearless justice. It will introduce the rule of the force of the great body of the people instead of the rule which protects the weak individual against the people. And so, with the proposal that the people shall pass by vote upon the decisions of the judges as to constitutional questions. All the votes in America cannot make injustice justice."

Abraham Lincoln described the true character of our government. He said a majority held in restraint by constitutional texts and limitations and always changing easily with deliberate changes of popular opinion and sentiment is the only true sovereignty of a free people. Whoever rejects the rule of necessity by to anarchy, or despotism, Aye, whoever rejects the order of a multitude acting within the restraints of these eternal principles upon the majority files of necessity to anarchy or despotism. All these other matters are of little consequence for the fundamental principle. This is the declaration of principle. It is along this line that the power and development of our country has won its way."

THE BIG FOUR FROM NEW YORK.

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) April 10.—The Republican party of New York State in convention here today declared for the renomination of President Taft and adopted a resolution urging the State's delegation to the national convention to vote to that end.

The Taft Presidential plank found an opponent only in City Comptroller William O. Prendergast of New York, a Roosevelt delegate, who made a vigorous speech against the platform and declared President Taft could not be re-elected. The platform was adopted by a vote with only a few dissenting votes from the 1018 delegates.

United States Senator Root, one of the "big four" selected to go to Chicago, was the chief champion of the platform and delivered a speech in which he made a vigorous defense of the American judicial system and made a sharp attack on the recall judge.

Today's session was given over entirely to speeches on the platform by Senator Root, James W. Wadsworth, former Speaker of the Assembly, Mr. Prendergast and Job Hedges of New York.

The delegates chosen are United States Senator Elihu Root, State Chairman William Barnes, Jr., William Berry of Brooklyn, and A. Merritt, Jr., Speaker of the Assembly.

The platform says:
"We applaud the patriotism, wisdom and undramatic courage of President William Howard Taft."

"The overwhelming majority of the representatives of the party in the convention assembled favor his renomination and we urge that the delegates-at-large here elected in their action in Chicago, carry out this choice of the Republicans of the States and with the district delegates united to the nation."

State Chairman Barnes read the platform, which was made public last night. One plank on the Sherman anti-trust act, which was made public until today, it reads:

"We believe in adequate laws to prevent monopoly in trade."

"We favor the retention of the Sherman anti-trust act; but that should be supplemented by further legislation to give the same certainty to the law controlling combinations and monopolies that characterizes other provisions of our commercial law, to the end that the field of business opportunity shall not be restricted by monopoly or combination; that business successes, honestly achieved, may be the next day be taken away by the law."

"We believe in the right of all men to acquire commodity and particularly the necessities of life in an open market, unimpaired by the manipulation of trusts or combinations, may be preserved."

"There should be provision for an administrative board for the enforcement of the law against monopoly. There should be further legislation to define as criminal offenses specific acts which may attempt to restrain and monopolize trade, so that those who honestly intend to obey the law may have a guide for action and those who violate the law may be more surely punished."

BETTER TOWARD MEADORE.

Advocate of Woman's Suffrage Holds Him Accountable for Defeat of the Cause in Illinois.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The defeat of suffrage in Illinois by substantially the same number of votes which gave Col. Roosevelt his one and only victory in the election of State primary is a significant commentary upon the attitude of the Colonel toward suffrage, say the local women, who have opposed the candidacy of Roosevelt because he opposed giving them the ballot. The regulars see now that there never was any hope of suffrage winning in a State where Roosevelt forces for the Colonel had any strength.

The local women who had hoped that Illinois would be the next State to grant women the right of the ballot are keenly disappointed at the result and ascribe it to the influence of the Roosevelt forces, for the Colonel has, on numerous occasions, said from the rostrum that if he favored suffrage he would give it to the women of the world.

At his visit here, when he was giving the Greek Theater in Berkeley, at that time the fate of suffrage was in the balance and things looked blue for the brave women who were battling in the face of many odds and numerous disappointments. They felt that if Roosevelt would give them a boost, if only incidentally, they would win, for his glory had not been dimmed by the coronation of a third-term ambition.

"No," he said. "He would not speak for suffrage, for he was but tepidly in favor of it."

ILLINOIS FIGHT NOT OVER YET.

Instructed Delegates Bound to One Ballot.

Vote for Roosevelt Will Be Perfunctory.

After That the Delegates Will Be Taft's.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, April 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] President Taft's Illinois managers will fight for an endorsement of the present administration in the platform to be adopted in the Republican State convention in Springfield, April 19.

The Taft leaders also will make an effort to obtain the election of their men as delegates to the national convention. They will consider the preferential primary vote binding and will vote for Roosevelt. When it comes to the consideration of the platform of the national convention, and the election of a national committee from Illinois, they will be found working for the Taft policies and for a Taft commitment.

VICTORY FROM DEFEAT.

Roosevelt will not receive the delegates from Illinois at the Republican National Convention after the first ballot. Plans for this were fixed weeks ago. When the Presidential primary bill carried, the movement was started. The Taft managers lost no time in making plans for the State convention and for the election of their own delegates to the national convention.

Although conceding all but two delegates to Roosevelt, Taft leaders see no reason why they should turn over the State to the Taft forces and permit the adoption of a platform ignoring the achievements of the present administration.

It is presumed the Roosevelt managers will seek to incorporate in the State platform a platform of harmony, however, they may agree to a compromise plank which shall include a mild endorsement of the Taft administration and a more eulogistic reference to Col. Roosevelt.

Gov. Deneen will be in control of the convention and much will depend on his attitude.

In districts where the Taft forces are in control of the party machinery, which has the naming of the delegates to the national convention, resolutions will be passed by the Congressional conventions commending the Taft administration.

The Congressional conventions which name the district delegates and are composed of delegates selected by the primary election in the State, will meet on April 17, two days before the State convention. The eight delegates-at-large are named in State conventions.

"I will abide by the decision." Senator Cullom will have completed thirty years of the United States Senate when his term expires March 4 next. Prior to that time he was twice Governor of Illinois, member of the House of Representatives, member of the Legislature, serving one term as Speaker.

PARTY VIEWS OF IT.

Out of it, all however, the Republican leaders think their party is in better shape than the Democratic party. They say they have purged the organization of the poisons which threatened its existence, and that now it will be in a stronger position.

They point to the fact that they say will continue to war upon each other until one of them becomes the master through the extinction of one or both of the other factions.

"Deneen proved the wrong man, in a field of strong men, because the loss of the situation was with him," said Roy O. West, chairman of the Republican State committee, who managed Gov. Deneen's campaign for renomination. He had been made the target for all the misrepresentation and all the bitterness which characterized the Lorrimerism, and the people believed he was the man who could crush Lorrimerism most effectively.

Mr. Deneen's victory is considered all the greater from the fact he was opposed by the city administration which pulled every pound it could lift for Samuel Alschuler and that also supported Mr. Alschuler.

REVISED FIGURES ON ILLINOIS VOTE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, April 10.—Revised figures show today that Roosevelt swept Illinois in the Presidential primary. Taft defeated Governor Deneen by about 114,000 votes.

Gov. Deneen was renominated by the Republicans by a plurality of about 75,000, while Deneen was nominated by the Democrats for Governor by about 60,000.

The advisory vote of United States Senator Sherman received the Republican endorsement over Senator Deneen, who was defeated by about 114,000 votes.

Senator Lorrimer met defeat in his attempt to capture the Republican party organization of the State from Gov. Deneen. His candidates for State committee were defeated by his home district and, as a result, it is said, he will not go as a delegate to the Republican National Convention.

Deneen was defeated in all but one Congressional district in his campaign for the State committee, and Gov. Deneen will control the new State Committee by a large majority.

On the Democratic side the fight between the National Committee, Roger C. Sullivan and the Hearst-Harrison combination was sharply fought in every district. The Democratic side for control of the party organization and the vote is so close the result is not known until complete returns are received.

In Chicago it appears each side elected five State committeemen. The Hearst-Harrison claims victory in a majority of the districts.

The measure is expected to form the basis of a speech by Mr. Gladstone. Until quite recently the Nationalists have shown opposition to the suggestion that an excise and customs should be

Life's Seamy Side.

PRISONER WAS HIS PROTEGE.

Human Drama of Intense Interest Revealed.

Idolized Teacher and He Recognized Her Genius.

Prof. Parma's Romance Bared by His Death.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, April 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The mystery surrounding the identity of the woman found in the home of Prof. Louis G. Parma, at No. 181 Lenox avenue, was cleared up yesterday when friends called at Bellevue and identified her as Clara Connor, 41 years old, a native of Indiana and for twenty years or more the sentimental protegee of Prof. Parma.

The identification revealed a human drama of intense interest. When Clara Connor became a pupil of Parma he recognized in her the signs of unusual genius. Because he had found no other pupil who promised similar things he became very devoted to Miss Connor. She had no relatives who cared to visit and she accepted his welcome as his adopted daughter.

It may have come as a shock to Clara Connor to learn that her idolized teacher was the husband of another woman from whom he had been separated for years or there may have been some other reason for the wrecking of her reason. Whatever the cause, Clara Connor became irrational and her malady progressed rapidly.

Men and women who knew Prof. Parma twenty years ago recalled to-day that there was a Miss Clara Connor in whom he was deeply interested but whom they never saw. She was to be a musical star, he said, but he took good care that no envious imprints should stay her.

So it went on. Clara Connor was demoted and the strain of caring for her eventually upset Parma's mind also. He decided to keep her in a room of his own, and in the two rooms he set apart for her at No. 181 Lenox avenue, a piano and other musical instruments were the chief furnishings.

But Clara Connor's ability to take lessons passed away and every loose string in her mental equipment came another discord in the old professor's life. He concealed it all.

FATAL RIFLE PRACTICE.

TWO MEN WOUNDED BY BOYS.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

JERSEY CITY (N. J.) April 10.—

Two men are dying here today as the result of the rifle practice of Jersey City boys on the banks of the

Morris Canal. The two boys,

Thomas Connors and William Ryan, are under arrest. They went to the canal to practice with a 22-caliber rifle, lately presented to Connors.

The young men first aimed at a empty can floating in the water. The bullet went through the body of Antony Salpino, at work on the other side of the canal. A second shot at a shot at a wheel barrow on the opposite bank and hit Antonio St. Pierre, making a hole in his right lung.

COURT-MARTIAL ENDS.

Trial of Naval Officer Accused of Breaking up Home Comed and Findings Will Be Forwarded.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SEATTLE (Wash.) April 10.—The court-martial of Lieut. Chandler K.

Jones, U.S.N., accused of breaking up the home of Lieut. Charles S. Mc-

Reynolds, U.S.M.C., was concluded here late tonight. The findings of the court will not be made public here, being forwarded to Washington for approval. The official charge against

Lieut. Jones, as preferred by Lieut.

McReynolds, was conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman.

Testimony from both sides went to show that Jones and Mrs. McReynolds were registered as man and wife at a Seattle hotel, and that they traveled in the same train as far east as Chicago. Mrs. McReynolds, in her testimony, declared she "did nothing wrong." She is now divorced from McReynolds, and military counsel for

Lieut. Jones announced that his client would marry her as soon as the probationary period of six months fixed by the State law elapsed, regardless of the findings of the court.

Civilian counsel for Lieut. Jones argued that nothing had been offered to show his client responsible for the extraneous matter between McReynolds and his wife. Counsel for the prosecution pointed out that the defense had not attempted to show at what hotel

Jones stepped in Seattle, nor what berth he occupied on the eastbound train.

RICH, BUT KLEPTOMANIAC.

Young Man from Philadelphia Accused of Purloining Articles Not Needed in House of Congress.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SANTA CRUZ, April 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The authorities here are puzzled over the case of Lyman

Covell, a young man of an apparently well-to-do family of Philadelphia, who registered at the Casa Del Rey

last Sunday and has since been arrested on complaint of the hotel management, charged with theft. The young man, well-dressed and rather sporty, has no ready funds, and is now in jail on failure to raise $500 bail. Friends arrived tonight from San Francisco, where the young man has been living lately, to help him.

A maid at the hotel discovered young Covell coming out of a closet.

Thinking little of the incident, until she saw him coming out of another later on, she investigated his room and there found missing articles of clothing, together with other effects of no value whatever to a rich young man.

The kleptomaniac is a puzzle. Physicians who examined him believe he is mentally afflicted on account of some nervous disease.

NITROGLYCERINE LETS GO.

NANNIMO (B. C.) April 10.—W. A.

Wilson, superintendent, was killed today, and W. Woods, a laborer, seriously injured in an explosion at the Canadian Explosive Company's plant in Northfield. Ten minutes before the explosion a warning was given and the rest of the crew escaped from the buildings. The explosion was caused by overheating of the nitrate mixers. Mr. Wilson was 200 feet from the building and was approaching it when the compound went off. He was killed by a flying timber.

EAT CABBAGE, ONIONS OR SAUSAGE
WITHOUT DREAD OF INDIGESTION.No misery-making gas, heartburn or sour, upset Stomach if you will eat a few Diapepsin occasionally.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly, ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Diapeptic, let this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered, you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. Diapepsin is quick, positive, and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as Diapepsin come in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructation of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from Indigestion, Dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

FOR THE NORTHWEST.Camp Is Broken at One O'clock

sented Wild Spectacle on March.

Disaster to Federals Apprehended

in Next Battle.

(By Times Special War Correspondent at the Front.)

MAPIMI (State of Durango) April 4, 1912.—I wired you from Bermejillo that we were returning to Torreon. Gen. Tellez, however, changed his plans suddenly and ordered the army to proceed in a northwestern direction, with Mapimi as its destination.

We left Bermejillo on April 1 at 1 o'clock in the morning. The different regiments had been in readiness in their respective cantons (barracks) ever since 9 o'clock in the evening, but no one knew the exact direction of the army. Great secrecy as to the movements of the forces is indispensable, for the reason that all these small villages the natives are sympathizing with the rebels, whom they hasten to inform promptly. It was a beautiful moonlight night. The different regiments in bivouac presented warlike silhouettes. The soldiers, with their wives and children, taking advantage of the still, were calmly sleeping. A mournful silence prevailed everywhere, interrupted only at times by the snoring of the horses. In the distant mountains dim lights could be seen. These gave great anxiety to the officers. The rebels were communicating—probably they knew then we were about to start the march across the desert.

EARLY-MORNING START.

At 1 o'clock the order to proceed was given. Battalion after battalion was quickly formed and a long procession of infantry, cavalry and artillery, followed by nearly 100 Indian women carrying the provisions and cooking utensils of their husbands, swiftly emerged from the little village of Bermejillo.

The twenty-eight kilometers between Bermejillo and Mapimi were covered in six hours and a half. The march was slow on account of the constant danger of being surprised by the enemy, which necessitated thorough advance-guard exploration. As I have been unable as yet to provide myself with a horse, I took a seat on a cannon drawn by six horses, the experience of which I will never forget.

AUBERT'S MEN WORN OUT.

As I wired you, Gen. Truce Aubert managed to escape from the pursuing enemy and reached Mapimi in the afternoon of April 1. His artillery, with the exception of two light mountain guns, ammunition and provisions, were all captured by the enemy. Officers and men suffered untold hardships and took completely worn out. Detachments of his dispersed forces continue still to come in. Sixty-seven men were killed and 100 wounded. The soldiers arrived early this morning. Jimenez, Escalon and Corralitos being now in the hands of the rebels, Orozco is marching toward Torreon. Where the next battle will take place is problematical—whether it will be here or at Torreon depends upon the movements of Orozco. It is regrettable that it is Mexico City that directs the military operations and not the commanding generals of the fighting army. For this reason a great many mistakes are committed that could easily be avoided.

DISASTER APPREHENDED.

If it is true that Orozco has from 10,000 to 15,000 men, which I do not doubt at all, and the Federal forces remain here to give him battle, I think a great disaster is apt to befall the Federal army, which now numbers in all volunteers included 1600 men. The overwhelming superiority of the enemy and the centralization of the Federals at Mapimi make the situation of the opportunity of a strategic movement. He could attack Mapimi with 2000 or 3000 men, while the greater part of his army is taking possession of the railroad line at Bermejillo, and proceed to Torreon. Most of the officers are afraid of such a movement and consider Torreon the safest position for the Federal forces. They also admit that the task is so dismasted that its accomplishment would mean an irreparable mistake.

MEXICAN ARMY DEPLETED.

The Mexican army has lost its best soldiers. Most of them were killed in the last and present battle. The desertion of two or three American women, the rest left town. Two weeks ago Mapimi was raided by 500 Zapatistas (Zapatistas) and the army is so dismasted that its task is not only gigantic, but almost an impossible one.

Mapimi is a big mining camp with 12,000 inhabitants. All the mines of lead and silver are controlled by Germans. About 100 Americans are working here as employees. With the exception of two or three American women, the rest left town. Two weeks ago Mapimi was raided by 500 Zapatistas (Zapatistas) and the army is so dismasted that its task is not only gigantic, but almost an impossible one.

HOTBED OF BRIGANDS.

This northern section is the hotbed of brigands. Two Englishmen and a Spaniard arrived here last night from a hacienda thirty kilometers from here. They told me that they had been robbed so often by the bandits that all their savings and even their furniture were taken away.

At the hour of writing a cavalry officer informs me that a courier has just arrived from Gen. Villa, who has captured the town of Páral. This news, together with Gen. Truce Aubert's, is very encouraging to the Federals.

REMEMBERING THE HOURS.

France Will Tell Time from One to Twenty-four On and After June First.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PARIS, April 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Beginning June 1 the hours of the day will be numbered from one to twenty-four, from midnight to midnight, on all French railways and in the postal and telegraph service. The new arrangement is intended to replace the awkward "a.m." and "p.m." designations. A partial test in the telegraph service has given satisfactory results.

New timetables for all the lines will be printed, and instead of 4 p.m. for instance, the simple number 16 will be used, and instead of 1 a.m. the hour will be designated as 23, and so on. Postmarks will be similarly registered.

The system described has been used for many years in the transatlantic service of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

INDIAN CLAIMS DENOUNCED.

Cannon and Other Congressmen Say They Are Being Urged Only by a Lot of Needy Lawyers.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Claim agents and lawyers were charged with being behind legislation considered by the House today when a bill to pay ancient claims arising from depredations by the Indians was up for consideration.

The House spent the day on the measure, but the opposition was so great that it did not pass. The bill has been before Congress a number of years.

Former Speaker Cannon charged flatly that a coterie of claims attorneys were taking advantage of every new bill to Congress to press the claims, which he insisted had no virtue and should not be given even passing notice.

"In connection with this legislation," he said, "we find a swarm of attorneys as thick around the departments and the Capitol as blackberries around the old schoolhouse back on the Washburn."

Minority Leader Mann also denounced the measure, as did a score of others. It was defended by many, led by Representative Ferris of Oklahoma. Democrats who insisted that those who had suffered from the Indian raids should be reimbursed.

Drunkenness and Its Cure

The Neal Treatment Destroys Craving and Leaves Distaste and Aversion for Liquor.

There may be successful men who are heavy drinkers, yet they are successful in spite of rather than by reason for it. Liquor drinking and business do not go well together; therefore, the man who tries to mix the two should stop experimenting at once, for every successive indulgence confirms the habit and makes it harder to break.

The Neal Drink Habit Treatment will restore, to a normal condition, the man who cannot resist the appetite and craving for liquor, in three days' time, and without the use of painful and dangerous hypodermic injections.

CATARRH, DEAFNESS AND Don't give up hope of being cured because you have been unsuccessfully treated by some other doctor. Drs. Shores have the learning, the ability and the experience to make a cure a certainty. If your disease is curable, they will catch up or give only temporary relief, but THEY CURE PERMANENTLY. Don't be skeptical, but give us the chance to prove our claim. A consultation or examination will cost you nothing. We will tell you honestly if and how your case can be cured. The Finance Committee will begin the consideration of the budget for the next ensuing year today. Large cuts in the estimates are promised.

INCINERATOR IS A TROUBLOUS THEME.CONTRACTOR WANTS CITY TO PAY FOR REPAIRS.

Numerous Fires Declared by Property Owners Caused by Burning Rubbish in Street While Plant Is Shut Down—Board of Public Works Wrestles With Subject.

The incinerator contract with D. B. Low is causing the Board of Public Works no end of trouble. No sooner did the courts decide that all rubbish must be delivered at the incinerator than the plant broke down last week. Now the plant is closed down for repairs and a general remodeling that, Inspector Hansen reported to the board yesterday would cost $1200. Contractor Low with his attorney argued over who should pay for the repairs, but the whole matter, as far as the board is concerned, was laid over for further discussion in the morning.

In the meantime, however, the City Council has been drawn into the fray, for yesterday communication was received by that body in which the J. F. Hall-Martin Company, the California Ornamental Brick Company and other property owners in the neighborhood of Macpherson and Santa Fe avenues take occasion to heap coals on top of the head of the incinerator and the contractor.

"The condition brought about by the incinerator," says the protest, "is a disgraceful as well as dangerous to health and property. The burning of rubbish in the street places the surrounding property in constant danger of destruction and the protestants say, through the failure of the contractor to take measures to arrest the sparks and burning papers that came out of the smokestack when the incinerator was in operation, and since then from the practice of burning rubbish and papers in the street and the incinerator yard."

This complaint did not reach the Board of Public Works officially, but its tenor was conveyed to the board and the contractor said he intended to place a screen at the base of the smokestack that would arrest all sparks and burning papers.

TO INCREASE PAY.

BOILER INSPECTOR CHANGES.
Ever since Boiler Inspector Griesmer resigned several weeks ago the Supply Committee of the City Council has been discussing the work of that office. Griesmer's real reason for retiring is said to have been that his assistant received as much money as he did. Yesterday the Supply Committee decided to accept Griesmer's resignation.

The committee, however, as soon as Councilman McKee shall have given his views, will probably recommend that as the Boiler Inspector Bureau produces a revenue to the city there should be no harm in paying the inspector $120 a month, his assistant $140 and a third man $120. The present acting chief inspector will probably be recommended for the chief inspectorship.

WANT TO GET NAMES.

SEVERAL SEEK PLACES.
Several candidates have presented themselves for the work of securing signatures to the petition for the names of the charter revision freeholders to be voted on at the special election on May 21. John P. Steele, who is circulating the petition for the county freeholders, has the strongest backing at present, but the appointment will not be made for a day or so and in the meantime all the candidates are busy.

It will be necessary to get 6000 names to allow for corrections. The actual number of certified names to the petition when the City Clerk shall have passed on it must be 4200. No women can be on the list, as the law requires that all freeholders shall have been voters for at least five years. Of the present Charter Revision Commission, most of the men's names will appear on the petition.

BEGIN BUDGET TODAY.

FINANCE COMMITTEE AT WORK.
The Finance Committee of the city charter will hold its first session today to consider the budget for the next fiscal year. The demands of the various departments are $1,750,000 in excess of the estimated revenues, and the members of the committee are preparing to encase themselves in an armor to repel the attacks that they expect to be made when favorite appropriations in the departments shall be slashed and cut. Chairman Whiffen and Councilmen Bethouli and McKee have all announced that they will keep the tax rate down to last year's figure, which was 90 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation.

MEDICINS TO ANSWER.

POLICE ARE AFTER THEM.
Continuing the warfare on so-called "spiritualistic mediums," the Police Commission yesterday morning cited Mrs. C. M. Sawyer and Mrs. A. B. Carman, arrested a week ago for conducting spurious seances, to appear next Wednesday and show cause why their licenses should not be revoked. Chief Sebastian filed with the commission the reports of his subordinates in which the women are charged with misleading people. The commission promptly denied the application of Michael V. for a license to conduct magnetic treatments.

The petition that there should be no saloons on the block on Seventh between Central avenue and Kohler street was granted.

City Hall Briefs.

There were 256 dogs caught a kickin' around and being kicked last month, according to the Poundmaster's report. Of these 218 have been permanently retired to place where there isn't any kickin' of dogs around for they have been killed. The rest were redeemed by anxious owners at a profit to the city of $140.

Held for Trial.M'KINNEY MUST ANSWER FOR KILLING OF SMITH.

DESPITE the efforts of several skilled lawyers and the testimony of a score of witnesses on his behalf, John G. McKinney, wealthy president of the Los Angeles Ice and Cold Storage Company, motorist and clubman, must stand trial in the Superior Court on the charge of manslaughter for the killing of Richard J. Smith, the old ranchman of Compton who met his death while trying to prevent the McKinney party from driving through his planted field. The decision of the court brought a distinct surprise to the defense. The defendant and his friends were confident of release and for that reason, practically all the evidence in the possession of McKinney's lawyers was introduced in the preliminary contrary to usual custom which is to reserve the defense until the trial is reached.

PROSECUTION SCORES.
Deputy District Attorney Blair made an eloquent argument in which he scored the millionaire defendant for telling his driver to run down the old ranchman, who was trying to keep trespassers off his land. The prosecutor declared that it was folly to suppose that Smith met death as the result of fatty degeneration of the heart on the testimony of reputable physicians. Smith's heart was in normal condition, but showed a bruise on it. The autopsy showed that the man was dragged under a big automobile and practically put to death.

Blair reviewed all the testimony and showed that a jury should decide whether the impact of the costly machine had killed the deceased. The arguments of counsel for the defense were to the effect that Smith had a weak heart and that the automobile incident had nothing to do with his death. Much time was taken in discussing the alleged profane language that was used by the deceased.

The lawyers made every effort to clear their client but their work was in vain. McKinney had to remain as prisoner in the courtroom while new undertakings in the amount of $5000 were approved to insure his appearance in the Superior Court.

HAWKINS ALSO HELD.

Lee Hawkins, the chauffeur who obeyed the orders of his master and rode down the aged ranchman, according to the preponderance of evidence, was also held to answer to the Superior Court. His bail was fixed at $10,000, as the court presumes that as he has no property interests here he is more liable to flee than McKinney. Hawkins was an attentive witness to the proceedings but did not make any comments. McKinney was testy in referring to his troubles and refused to allow a photographer to take his picture.

The next proceedings will be in either Judge Willis's or Judge McCort's court. The defense attorneys filed, the defendant can interpose various technicalities before the case reaches the trial stage. It is probable that prominent criminal lawyers will be retained to defend McKinney as his present attorneys are more versed in civil practice than in big criminal trials.

The affair occurred during Aviation week. Smith owned the field near where the birdmen were making their flights. There was a blockade of automobiles on the county road and McKinney had his driver push across the private ground in order to get ahead of other vehicles. Smith came to him and remonstrated. Words passed and finally, according to the court testimony, McKinney ordered his chauffeur to start his machine regardless of the fact that the owner of the property stood in the way. The porter drove car named at Smith. He fell, arose, staggered about and in ten minutes was dead. The crowd threatened to lynch the chauffeur and McKinney would have been roughly handled had it not been for the presence of officers. An autopsy showed that the muscles about the heart of the dead man had been bruised by impact with the radiator of the automobile.

At the Courthouse.MUTE TRIBUTE TO LOVED WIFE.*WILL OF MAJOR LEE MAKES HER SOLE LEGATEE.

As Executor, Helpmeet of Late Pioneer Is Given Absolute Discretionary Powers in Distribution of Estate to Children—Testament Over Thirty Years Old.

The holograph will of Maj. Henry T. Lee, who died on the 2nd inst., was filed for probate yesterday by Attorney Fred C. Valentine, Maj. Lee's law partner. The will is dated October 13, 1880, and a type-written codicil follows dated May 7, 1904. The petition of the widow, Mrs. Josephine Lee, executrix, gives the value of the real property, which is the home at No. 414 West Adams street, as $30,000. The one-half interest in the law business of the firm of Lee & Valentine is not estimated. The cash on deposit is $1700.

The heirs, legatees and devisees are Josephine Mason Lee, Thomas R. Lee, the son, and Margaret Moir Kosler, the daughter. The will is simple and direct. It states that the whole of the estate both real and personal, of every kind and nature and wheresoever situated is given to Mrs. Lee, "intentionally omitting to make any specific or general provision for my son, Thomas R. Lee, or for any child or children who may hereafter be born to me. I make this disposition of my property because I have the fullest confidence in the discretion, justice and maternal love and affection of my wife, and I deem it for the best interest of all concerned that she should be untrammelled in the management and disposition of my said estate. I nominate and appoint my wife, the sole executrix of this will, and the sole guardian of the persons and property of my child or children during his, or their, minority."

The will is witnessed by William H. Thomas and Mrs. M. A. Thomas of Manila. The witnesses to the codicil are Lizzie G. Bell and Roy B. Hughes of No. 507 West Adams street. The codicil briefly states that "Since the execution of this will there have been born to my wife and myself, two daughters, Margaret Moir Lee and Mary McElroy Lee, and I do on this seventh day of May, A.D. 1904, ratify, confirm and re-execute the foregoing will."

RELAY TURNS UP.

The $1000 letter of credit issued by the All Night and Day Bank to Victor C. Henry, who two years ago cut a wide swath with funds obtained from the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company on a mortgage covered by forged checks, figured in the suit of J. B. Holley, an attorney, against Coroner Hartwell to recover judgment for $900 and heard by Judge Houser yesterday.

Holley alleges in the complaint that he had been retained to defend Henry at his trial for forging the checks. Holley, who is a professional services. He alleges that it was obtained by the Coroner on a writ of attachment and was held in trust by the Sheriff. The case was submitted.

The letter of credit is claimed by the Pacific Mutual, which asserts that it was purchased from the funds of the company. Henry, it appeared at the trial, obtained $12,500 from the Pacific Mutual and the proceeds bought an automobile, jewelry and other things essential to a high life. He went on a honeymoon and a divorce in Judge Monroe's court. A gold watch were found on him.

The letter of credit was used on his travels for the honoring of drafts drawn on the All Night and Day Bank. The case remaining to his credit at the bank was attached by the Pacific Mutual.

ALL IN HER TRUNK.CONTENTS AMAZE COURT.

When Mrs. Charles A. Dolman, wife of a retired manufacturer of Indiana, began to call off from a list the contents of a Taylor trunk which had been checked on a Southern Pacific train and lost, the wonder grew in Judge Monroe's court yesterday that three bulky hats, ten suits and other female attire, not to speak of a miscellaneous collection of articles numbering more than sixty, could be stowed away in a single trunk.

The suit was brought against the American Transfer Company, the Southern Pacific for $550 damages and interest amounting to $300. This testimony showed that Mr. and Mrs. Dolman were at Santa Barbara and on April 29, 1905, took passage on a Southern Pacific train for Los Angeles. A transfer company's agent checked their two trunks. One, a steamer trunk, was delivered at the Hotel Zeldia, where the Dolmans were staying, but the Taylor trunk was obtained by some unknown person who presented the check for it.

The Southern Pacific produced a check showing that delivery had been made, and the suit against it was dismissed. The attorney for Dolman set up that the transfer company's agent violated the regulation by delivering the checks for both trunks at the Zeldia. The case was continued on the application of Dolman to allow to amend the complaint to cover this point.

CALLED WORTHLESS.

IS SYNDICATE LAND.
The trial of the suit of the Aqueduct Land Syndicate against the Los Angeles Realty Board was suddenly halted yesterday in Extra Sessions One, soon after Chief Engineer Mulholland had testified that the 640 acres of land owned by the syndicate is worthless. Testimony to the same effect was given by Constable Hamilton, Mulholland and County Clerk Charles Lee of Kern county. Arguments will be made this morning.

The Aqueduct City Tract of 640 acres, which had been platted into town lots on the desert near Mojave, was attacked last October by the Los Angeles Realty Board. The latter was later sued for libel, the syndicate asking $225,000 damages.

STOCKHOLDERS' FIGHT.DECLARE TRANSFER ILLEGAL.

A deposition from a New York banker, which Thomas Allan Box claims will show that a New York syndicate attempted to "job" him out of the control of the American Differential Railway Axle Company, is expected to be produced in the suit of O. D. Payne and sixty-eight stockholders against Box, the Western Engineering Company, the American Differential Railway Axle Company and the North American Construction Company to recover 1,500,000 shares of stock of the axle company.

The hearing was begun before Judge Wilbur yesterday, the stockholders asking that the transfer of 2,500,000 shares of treasury stock of the company to the Western Engineering Company, made December 30, 1907, be declared invalid except as to

INNOCENTS ABROAD.PLAY IN DIVORCE COURT.

"I am getting 'fached to this place," remarked Alvin Fuchs, the 6-year-old son of D. J. Fuchs, who seeks a divorce in Judge Monroe's court. Tuesday afternoon and part of yesterday Alvin and his 10-year-old sister, Ruth, played in the corridor outside of apartment six, made friends with balliffs and wondered when papa and mamma were coming to get them.

A little girl was sent out of Judge Monroe's court to join Ruth, but after a time play paused, and the children sat silent, wondering what was going on in that big room.

USES UGLY WORD.JAILED FOR CONTEMPT.

George E. Parker, who was cited to show cause why he should not support his four children, started the Juvenile court yesterday by calling Humane Officer McLaughlin a liar. Judge Wilbur instructed Bailiff Strohm to take Parker jail for contempt of court for five days. When Parker used the shorter and uglier word McLaughlin was describing conditions which did not redound to the father's credit.

FORGETS MOTHER'S NAME.

First Name, That Is, But Man Who Asks Police to Find Her Does Not Know How Her Last Is Spelled.

Alfred Neehring, No. 402 West street, Milwaukee, paid a high compliment to the detection abilities of the Los Angeles police force yesterday in asking Chief Sebastian to find his mother, even though he does not remember her first name, and is not quite certain how she spells her last.

"My mother's name is Neehring or Neehring," he writes, but her first name I do not know and don't remember whether I ever heard it. I was placed in the orphan asylum in Los Angeles, but it was long ago. I was but 4 then, and I am 20 now, that I have only the dimmest recollection of it. I do not remember the name of the place, but if I could go to Los Angeles, and it is still open, I might know it. When I was adopted by my present family I was taken to Ohio and later we came here.

"My surroundings are very pleasant, but quite often I have a very strong longing to see my dear mother, and it is very aggravating to know that she may be alive and yet out of reach."

Whither To?

MOTHER WORRIES OVER CHILDREN.

FATHER TAKES THEM AWAY AND BUYS TICKET EAST.

Attention of District Attorney Called to Alleged Kidnaping and Criminal Proceedings Are to Follow—County Detective on the Trail While Woman Waits.

Apparently on his way east with his two children that he snatched from the side of their mother, Carl G. Miller of this city is to be charged with kidnaping by the District Attorney, and steps were taken yesterday to apprehend the man before he can reach his destination.

This criminal action was determined upon by Chief Trial Deputy Horton after hearing the story of Mrs. Miller, who lives at No. 324 North Occidental boulevard. She said that for some time her husband had been estranged from her, but that he has been living at the home. She said he once worked for the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, and later for the Whiting Wrecking Company, but lately had been idle.

Tuesday, according to the woman's story, Miller left the house with Frank, the 3-year-old child, ostensibly for a walk. Later he called at the Castellar-street school and took Freddy, 7 years old. With the boys he went to the office of the Southern Pacific Company, and purchased tickets for Council Bluffs, Iowa. He did not return home night before last. After watching at the door until nearly midnight and falling asleep on a couch in the living-room, Mrs. Miller passed a night of anguish and terror. She had never been left alone before, and she was distracted at the absence of her two children. She sought the aid of the police yesterday morning, and, in turn, was referred to the District Attorney.

"My husband and I have not been getting along very well lately," said she at the prosecutor's office, "but I was willing to overlook much for the sake of the children. My husband was very restless and repeatedly told me he wanted to go to his ranch in Berkeley, Cal. I said positive that he is going there with the boys to ranch. There is no house on the place, and I tremble to think of what my babies may suffer."

Though no record of a mortgage was found at the County Recorder's office yesterday, it is thought that Miller raised some money on the house in order to get away, for he was without funds, owing to his long idleness.

Horton has placed one of the county detectives on the case, and says he will have the fugitive detained wherever he is found until extradition proceedings are prepared. It is barely possible that Miller is still in the city, in spite of his purchase of the railroad tickets.

MANY SINGERS COMING.

All German Societies in This Country and Europe Invited to Sangerfest to Be Held Here.

Several hundred members of the various Los Angeles German and Swiss singing societies were banqueted Tuesday night by August Hans, at his new bakery plant, No. 609 Moulton avenue.

Representatives of the Fidelia and Swiss Mannechor and the Arion Singing Society were present and rendered songs. The host was presented with a beautiful gold medal by members of the Fidelia Mannechor in appreciation of his services in building up that organization.

It was announced last night by President Joseph Blust of the Fidelia that arrangements are being made to hold a great international Sangerfest in this city in the summer of 1915.

"We have invited every singing society in this country and Europe to take part in the great Sangerfest," said Blust, "and it will bring at least 50,000 visitors to our city. We intend to make it the biggest Sangerfest ever held in this country. Prizes aggregating ten thousand dollars will be given away. I hope that the proposed municipal auditorium is completed by that time."

Frank Dorner left for Germany several days ago to invite singing societies in Germany, Austria and Switzerland to come to Los Angeles and sing.

Though the Hand Was Small.

Charles Sepulveda and Sam Disparto, both under 18 years of age, said by Plainclothesmen Allen and Williamson to be the youngest safe-crackers who operated in Los Angeles, were arrested yesterday, charged with looting the strong box of H. Holman, the San Francisco contractor, which was in his warehouse at No. 468 Lamar street. With a hammer and a hammer, it is asserted, the boys cut the door out of the safe. There was nothing of value in it.

"NERVES"—A FAULT OR A DISEASE?

Nerve Troubles and Nerve Pains Are Often Due to Weakened Kidneys.

Much of the nervousness, worry and bad temper that we see every day among our friends is due to weakened kidneys.

Good kidneys drive a large amount of uric products out of the body every day. Uric acid is very irritating, and when in excess, it attacks the weakest parts first.

Nerve troubles are more common than in years gone by. Civilization has brought a heavier strain on the brain and nerves. The nervous system offers less resistance to attacks of uric acid.

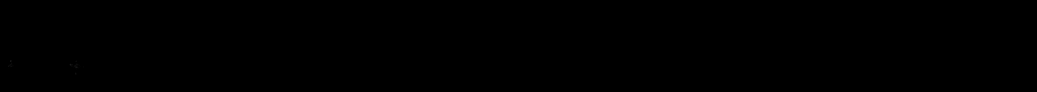

Nothing can cause more unhappiness than fits of temper, "blues," the inclination to worry over trifles, to suspect one's friends and to see the worst side of everything. Nervousness is so easily misunderstood that many a kidney sufferer drifts to the very verge of nervous collapse without realizing the cause of it.

Here is the clue: If your nerve troubles are due to kidney weakness, you are likely at the same time to have backache, or frequent, painful passages of the kidney secretions, dizzy spells, headache, or rheumatic or neuralgic pain.

"This gets on my nerves!"

CHARITY BALL.

met in looking the cumbersome tray. At times she would stop and then the three bachelors would try to purchase all of her offerings. She would startle to find all to any one person, but gladly disposed of separate bunches of flowers for what-ever denomination of currency the young knight might have. There was no change given.

This scene was repeated until the purses of the young ladies grew opulent, and they were in high feather. The fund for the Barlow Sanatorium was growing by leaps and bounds, and they were glad. Suddenly came the sharp imperative blast of a bugle.

THE GRAND MARCH.

There was a hush that settled over the Auditorium.

De W. Jarvis Barlow was seen walking rapidly toward the upper Dutch windmill at the left upper end of the auditorium adjoining the stage. Colored lights had been attached to the arms of the mill and as the great contrivance revolved a pretty scene was produced. Chocolates and cheese were dispensed and both were popular. Dainty young ladies in the costumes of the occasion and looking more attractive than any scene that dear old Holland could show on demand dispensed the warm tasty drinkables and the dainty cheese edibles that so appeal to the masculine stomach. Flowers were used in profusion about the booth and a score of beautiful bay trees were placed at the vantage points. Little tables were scattered here and there back of a really truly Dutch fence and young ladies in Holland costumes served hot chocolate in dainty little Sevres cups.

In charge of the booth were: Mrs. T. J. Marshall, chairman; Mrs. Alvan Balch, Simpson, Lawrence Burk, Hansen Moore, Dr. Wernick, Paul Compton, A. B. Barrett, James Wagner, Guy Barham, Earle Anthony, Harold Cook, Henry Stephenson, Robert London, Gail B. Johnson, Carey Nardie, Homer Laughlin, Jr., Har-

THE HANGING GARDEN.

In the center of the auditorium was the "hanging garden" in which Ahrend's orchestra, hidden by banks of palms and ferns, played soft, wistful airs until the great throng was lulled into half forgetfulness and then suddenly crashed out into the latest syncopated melody that sent the blood racing and tingling through the veins and set a thousand dainty toes beating eager time to it.

Hanging from the great, wide-spreading iron spans that cross from one side of the roof to the other were thousands of blood red pennants, green ferns clustering about them. The entire color scheme was red to show the warm-blooded charity of the ball, and dainty green, as an excellent foil to the carmine of the pennants, was superb.

From the sides of the balcony and the private boxes hung other thousands of the three-cornered flags and here and there a gleam of gold and white set off the whole. The florists had done magnificent work and the entire auditorium was a flower garden of surpassing beauty and soft-toned pink blossoms and violet shaded flowers struggled to appear unabashed in the presence of the gorgeous blood red and deep green surroundings.

Huge streamers of brilliant colors hung their length from the sides of the structure to the center where they

Piano Investment vs. Piano Expense

If you can afford it, buy a new high-grade piano, they always give satisfaction—if you can't afford the piano of your choice then you need advice and careful investigation. A stencil or too cheap new piano is never satisfactory and is an expense item pure and simple, as you can never get your money out of same.

A high-grade piano sufficiently worn so it can be sold at the price of a stencil, say $175, is equally as bad as a cheap new piano.

In other words, such purchases come under the head of Expense Items. Now the real bargain is the high-grade piano, comparatively new, on which some one else has stood that shrinkage all new articles stand—autobuses, furniture, etc. Buy one of these at say $275 and you have an investment and can get your money out any time for several years to come.

It is just such pianos as these taken in on Angelus players and Mason & Hamlin pianos which we are offering while they last.

You can buy a Fischer almost like new at $269; a Mason & Hamlin ebony case, old but still fine, $275; a fine Emerson-Angelus, mission design, was $900, now $600. Other pianos good for hard practice from $150 up, including Conover, Steck, Schumacker, Marshall & Wendall, Hallet & Davis.

$10.00 will send any one of these home while they last. Ask also about our $485.00 special up-to-date inside player piano—easy terms.

$1.00 now equals $1.50 in purchasing power. Visit our warehouses today—this ad may not appear again. Song books for the asking. See our windows.

Charming Refreshment Dispensers at the Barlow Ball.

The unanimous vote of the Four Hundred present at the brilliant function at Shrine Auditorium last night was that the candy, ice cream, punch, sandwiches and lemonade served by their dainty hands acquired from that fact flavor and desirability never before attributes of mere food.

end of the dancing floor, where a large number of guests had seemingly gathered in an unorganized crowd. He reached a man and a woman, took the woman by the hand, turned and gave the signal to the orchestra, which peaked forth in the raucous strains of "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

Mrs. Randolph Huntington Miner and William May Garland stepped out of the crowd of guests and began the grand march, that stately affair for which the society buds and the matrons had waited long.

Rapidly the line formed as Mrs. Miner and Mr. Garland slowly paced down the side of the Auditorium. By the time they had reached the end of the first side there were 200 in their rear. More joined and soon there was a compact circle about the ball. Then came the divers and sundry turnings and windings of the march and fully 1500 of the society belles and beaux of Los Angeles were in line before the martial strains of the orchestra suddenly swept easily into a waltz—and the real Charity Ball was on.

After this there was no definite programme enforced. There was entertainment and diversion at the four corners of the Auditorium. There was no set hour for supper, but throughout the evening light refreshments were served in the various booths. Coffee and sandwiches, hot chocolate and sweets were abundant.

When the appetites of the guests had been satisfied, the young sales-bachelors again charged the youthful bachelors and the latter manfully stood and delivered of their worldly goods. The efforts of the young ladies realized a wonderful sum of money, which will be used where it will do the most good.

GIFFY CAMP FROM ARABIA.

On the big stage at one end of the auditorium was the Giffy camp. In the center of the beautiful picture was a genuine Bedouin tent of the softest and most delicately-colored tapestries. The tent itself came from the desert of Arabia, and is authentically stated to have been used by a famous Bedouin.

On either side of the gorgeous tent were two brilliant-colored canopies half hidden by palms and ferns. Across the stage in front of the superb setting was a great hedge of asparagus plumosus, and through the soft, feathery green blades blood-red tulips.

No Rhok's tent ever contained such soft-voiced and bright-eyed fortune tellers and soothsayers as occupied the Giffy camp at the ball last night. Gentle maidens and stately matrons continued in the perfect line of enthusiastic and curious members of Los Angeles' social elite and the wonderful tales that were told within the silk tapestries would make the Arabian Nights a mauve-colored almanac.

The Giffy tent was preeminently the center of attraction of the great Charity Ball.

On the balcony, just to the right of the stage, where the principal camp of the Giffies was stationed, was a second gorgeous tapestried tent and its satellites of brilliant canopies.

STILL MORE OF THEM.

Those who thought the soothsayers had not told them all of the mysterious future that they desired, and that there were many of them, continued up the stairs to the second campment of the Giffies. Here, in addition to the attraction, was stationed a true-to-life Navajo Indian topee in front of which glowed, under colored glass, a miniature camp fire with a blackened kettle hanging over it. The richest of oriental rugs were strewn over the floor of the larger tent and soft music from string instruments came plaintively from the rear of the enclosure.

The ladies in charge of the Giffy camp were: Mrs. Robert Marsh, chairman; Misses Isaac Milbank, Spencer H. Smith, Gail B. Johnson, Lyman R. McPhee, Dan Murphy, Borden Johnson, Donald J. Erick, Milbank Johnson, Albert Crutcher, E. S. Rowley, Lewis G. Morris, John H. Miller, William C. Baker, Robert Gillis, L. J. Selby, William Lacy, William T. McPhee, William Brackenridge, William R. of the auditorium adjoining the stage.

Colored lights had been attached to the arms of the mill and as the great contrivance revolved a pretty scene was produced.

Chicago and almost all of New York, as well as breaking records of twenty years standing in the twenty-seven-week run, and in the weeks in Philadelphia. The new, however, has "The Man from Home" as a visit here. Next week will be come, though, with a new cast and trappings, and a new stage in the title role, and a new engagement of one of the most famous of the Hamburgers. The new, however, has "The Man from Home" as a visit here. Next week will be come, though, with a new cast and trappings, and a new stage in the title role, and a new engagement of one of the most famous of the Hamburgers.

The last Sunday the Majestic has been the scene of large and happy audiences at every performance. "Over Night" is easily one of the cleverest, liveliest and happiest farces that the season has sent us, and well merits the attention that the local theatergoing public has given it. In "Over Night," Mr. Bartholomew, a comparatively new playwright, has given the native stage a wholesome, bright comedy that ranks among the very best of recent years and much may be expected of him in the future.

The Orpheum next week will present for the first time in Los Angeles a morality play. But it will be an up-to-date one, though still presenting the form and substance of the middle ages' fashion. However, it will be strictly long the lines of today and will deal with the usual matrimonial problem in a new fashion. "Everywife" it is called and twenty-two are in the cast. George V. Hobart wrote it, and that means, of course, that it is witty, clever and brilliant. It deals with the vicissitudes of Everywife and Everyhusband, and the way happiness, care, jealousy, vanity, dress, money, gamble and the like enter and influence their lives, and how they are handled in the end to fetch happiness back, drive out care and make nobody object or regret. It is in four scenes, is this play, and in all details of costume and the like is complete. Surrounding it the bill is fully adequate. McKay & Cantwell, two clever change artists, a Breckinridge Broadway. Mike Bernard comes to do ragtime piano work, with Amy Butler, a competent little comedienne, as his support, and George Simondet, late of the Paris Grand Opera Company, makes his vaudeville debut in some operatic excerpts. Mary Newman with her "Women I Have Met," Robert T. Haines & Co. in "The Coward," Wilson Brothers, and Sammy Watson's farmyard circus remain.

Three splendid features will headline the new Sullivan and Constable bill which opens at the Empress Theater next Monday afternoon. First among these is a new and novel miniature musical review termed "La Petite Revue," an offering which requires the services of ten clever people, and which carries an unusually large amount of special scenic effects. Upon a stage within a stage, "La Petite Revue" is a miniature imitation of famous artists and stars among whom are Eva Tanguay, Anna Held, Montgomery and Stone, Chauncey Olcott, while it also offers scenes from "Pinocchio" and "The Chimes of Normandy." The second feature of the new bill will be William Powell and Will Howard, with a selected company in the lively college farce entitled "Books," followed as a close third by the Stanton, two droll daffydills in their merry skit, "Who Stole the Shoes." Others who will contribute to the success of the new bill are Hude and Williams, musical comedy entertainers; Coy De Trickey, the Belle of Countdown; Altus Brothers, jugglers, and the new comedy motion pictures.

On Happy Day!
MAY DAY JOY RIDE INDORSED.

Society Folk Enthusiastic Over Noble Plan.

Day of Delight in Store for Children of Poor.

Citizens Eager to Co-operate With "The Times."

"Fine!" "Delightful!" "Charming!"
"Of course I will!"
Enthusiasm and warm co-operation greet The Times on every hand, voicing the feeling of some of the foremost club and society women of the city, in enthusiastic approval of the May Day automobile ride to the seashore for the poor children of Los Angeles.

All the delectable adjectives known to the society reporter and the poets were used, repeated and reiterated, voicing the sympathy of enthusiastic womanhood, in a series of interviews yesterday, when the question was asked, "What do you think of the free May Day auto ride? Will you co-operate with us?"
Mrs. Robert Wankowski's cordial voice came over the wire: "I'll say whatever you wish me to say in commendation of that joy ride. You cannot make it too strong. It's fine! I think it's one of the finest things the people of the city have ever contemplated."

Mrs. Ward Chapman, at her pretty home on Soto street, said:
"Why, I think anybody would say this was a fine thing! I most heartily indorse anything we can do for the little ones."
Mrs. Guy Cochran was one of the most enthusiastic: "I think this joy ride giving is perfectly lovely of The Times and the Los Angeles people. I wish them the greatest success. I believe we should all co-operate in making these little ones happy for a day."

Mrs. J. F. Sartori couldn't see why anyone should ask the question, "I'm sure anybody would think a joy ride was lovely! This is the first time a newspaper has ever required my assistance on a question of this sort. But I am glad to indorse the action of The Times."

Mrs. Adna R. Chaffee spoke cordially: "I am always pleased with the things that The Times and Gen. Otis do for the public good, but of all the movements that the Los Angeles people have inaugurated none touches my heart more than this giving of happiness to our unfortunate little ones. I wish I had a dozen machines—they would all be at your disposal."

Mrs. Harry Grose was most enthusiastic: "I think it's simply fine! Why, it's almost worth while being a poor child to be eligible to take that delightful ride!"
Mrs. Tristram Coffey spoke feelingly on the subject: "I think anything we can do for the children is noble work. I hope the little ones will have a most happy day."

Mrs. Robert Marsh: "I think we should do far more for these unfortunate little ones than we do. I'm sure many people will be grateful for the opportunity to brighten many little lives, even for a day. I think the movement is perfectly lovely, and heartily indorse it, and wish you all success."

Mrs. Granville MacGowan said: "I think this is a very lovely thing which the citizens and The Times are doing for the little ones who are not so lucky as their brothers and sisters. You may indeed say that I indorse it."

Mrs. C. G. Stanton: "I'm sure all of us will be glad to do what we can in this beautiful May Day present of a happy day to the city's little ones. It is a beautiful thought on the part of The Times, and I know the response to the call for aid will be a hearty one."

Australia Has High Opinion of Us and Considers Los Angeles as the Coast Metropolis.
The Los Angeles has acquired a world-wide reputation, not only for its matchless climate, but as a city that "does things," is shown by the statements of W. H. Russell, journalist, and R. G. Baxter, millionaire sheep rancher, both from the British commonwealth of New Zealand, who are at the Lankershim during a three days' stay here.
Russell is one of the twelve newspaper men employed by the Parliament of the country to take verbatim reports of its proceedings.
Los Angeles is the only western city ever spoken of in our country," said he. "It is known for its climate, as a center of wealth and beauty and as a commercial city. It is placed by the New Zealanders in the category of New York, Chicago and Philadelphia, practically the only American cities, outside of the capital, that we ever hear of."

Both men were surprised when told of the rapid growth of the city and, after taking a walk through the drenching rain, they complimented the business-like appearance of the streets and streets, and spoke of the public buildings as a revelation.

While in the United States the men will investigate the prohibition question. Russell will be one of the political issues of the next national campaign in their country. At a recent election, participated in by the women—who have full suffrage—national prohibition failed of passage by only a few thousand votes.
Russell will tour the East, returning to New Zealand in time to assist in the opening of Parliament, while Baxter, accompanied by his wife, will travel through Europe before making their half-way-round-the-world trip home.

They predicted an Anglo-American pact to merge the interests of the two English-speaking countries and stated the visit of the American fleet to New Zealand four years ago was but the opening wedge which won the Britishers' hearts.
Mrs. Baxter is a Canadian and will visit her old home near Montreal before leaving for England, the home of her husband. Baxter is the owner of a 16,000-acre sheep ranch and is one of the wealthiest men in Targu, the province in which his property is located.

Date Growing
Is Profitable and You Can Do It!

The United States Government has been experimenting for a number of years on date culture, and it has found that the soil best adapted to date culture is just exactly the kind of soil that our 480-acre ranch owns. Furthermore, the ranch itself lies in the Coachella Valley, directly between the two Government Experiment Stations.

250 miner's inches of water have been developed on this land. There are horses and mules and twenty or thirty men hard at work planting more date trees. Thousands are already growing on the property.

The tract is not, however, fully developed. It will require just a little more capital to plant it all in dates, and that is what we want to do. So we are offering a limited amount of the stock of this company for sale at $1.00 a share, and the person who invests with us now will be making a sound, safe, conservative investment, where absolutely certain profits of 200 per cent. will be made, and profits of 300 per cent. will be probable. The products of the ranch right now, alfalfa, grapes, barley, hogs, etc., are sufficient to pay 8 per cent. in a year. When each of these four hundred and eighty acres has been planted with 50 date trees, and each date tree is growing 200 pounds of fruit, it is a very easy matter to see that the income from the ranch, even if dates reach the uncommonly low wholesale market price of 10c a pound, will be in the neighborhood of half a million dollars.

The figures as to crops, which we have given above, are not in any degree guesswork. They are the figures that have been proven correct by the United States Government experiments. And if you have ever tried to buy the fine Algerian dates, you know that 10c a pound wholesale is just about a third of what they really bring.

We solicit an investigation from good Missourians who want to be shown. And among the stockholders of this company they will meet a great many other equally good Missourians (who have been shown).

League Delegates Discuss Ways to Improve.

The second annual convention of the Architectural League of the Pacific Coast opened yesterday at the Angelus Hotel with practically every architect in Los Angeles in attendance.

This evening will bring the convention to a close. The Architectural League of the Pacific Coast comprises in its membership architects from all of the principal cities of the Coast. Its present officers are A. F. Rosenheim, Los Angeles, president; E. F. Lawrence, Portland, vice-president; John P. Krempel, Los Angeles, secretary, and W. R. B. Wilcox, Seattle, treasurer. The executive council, consisting of L. C. Mullgardt, August O. Headman and Frederick H. Mayer of San Francisco; Octavio Morgan, Los Angeles; and Henry E. Bean of Los Angeles, Joseph Jacobberger and David C. Lewis of Portland; Charles Alden and Charles F. Gould of Seattle; E. K. Cutter of Spokane and A. J. Russell of Tacoma.

THE NEW REPUBLIC. An interesting outgrowth of the present civil center movement in this city was revealed at the afternoon session of the league, when John P. Krempel, the secretary, was handed a communication from the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, signed by Henry U. Yip, secretary of that body, which read as follows: "The Chinese Chamber of Commerce desires to call your attention

That the growing demand for cotton in China is exceeding the supply from the United States and other countries; that the new Chinese re-with him at the Y.M.C.A. lecture Tuesday night, that the visible coal supply in one province of China would be sufficient to supply the world for 2000 years, adding that there is enough coal in the other Chinese provinces to supply the world for 4000 years.

CHINATOWN BEAUTIFUL. The Chinese Protective Association and Chamber of Commerce last night addressed a letter to John P. Krempel, president of the Southern Division of the Architectural League of the Pacific Coast, urging the members of that organization to advise the Chinese as to the proposed "Chinatown Beautiful" and oriental buildings, which, being contiguous to the civic center, they want to make as attractive they will not be objectionable but will become one of the attractions of the city. A Cantonese garden, of which the old Plaza will form the nucleus, is a part of the proposed plan.

action was decided upon. The meeting resolved itself into an executive session when details of the two plans were thoroughly discussed and a committee was named, composed of Henry S. Yip, Harry S. Quan, Lew Sing Kal, Wong Si Fee, Fong Fun, Chew Pack and Wong Sam Ying, to decide on steps relative to the promulgation of facts as to China's cotton market, so the American farmers in California may be encouraged to prepare for heavy exports to China with the establishment of the new steamer line. This committee will prepare a supplementary report to the Chinese Importers' Association at Hongkong on the outlook.

Father Causes Son's Arrest. George Stephenson, who lives near the University Police Station, unwittingly was the cause of his son's being prosecuted before Judge Williams yesterday. The boy, who has been in the Juvenile Court, was given a six months' suspended sentence for stealing his father's $65 buggy and selling it to a second-hand dealer for $12. When the father missed the vehicle he notified the police. Robert, the son, was suspected and arrested.

C. Newman, State Board; Sumner P. Hunt, State Board; F. L. Roehrig, Secretary State Board; W. S. Hubbard, State Board; Frank Hudson, Fernand Fermenier, Secretary Local Chapter A.I.A.; Sylvia Schnallacher, State Board; A. F. Rosenheim, President Architectural League of the Pacific Coast.

and with a generous sprinkling of visitors from other places. Owing to the rain the morning session was delayed in starting, with the result that two of the principal addresses, that of Carl F. Gould of Seattle, on the "Seattle City Plan," and that of G. Albert Lansburgh of San Francisco, on "The Nationalism of the Twentieth Century Architecture," were held over until today.

John W. Mitchell of the Municipal Art Commission, welcomed the visiting delegates in response to a request from the Mayor, who was unable to be present. Mitchell sketched briefly the city's advance from a public of adobe huts to an aspiring world city and outlined the ambitions of Los Angeles from an artistic and civic point of view. He expressed the hope that the presence of the convention here might be the means to further inspiration toward higher ideals in architecture both in private and public buildings.

ADVOCATES ENDOWMENT. President A. F. Rosenheim of the league, in his announcement of committees, took occasion to advocate the early creation of an endowment fund to provide for an annual scholarship of $1000 to be awarded for proficiency in design to a member of the league. In the same connection the Finance Committee of the league expressed itself as being opposed to any attempt to raise this fund now and suggested that fifty members of the league be asked to contribute $20 a year each for three years to carry the scholarship along until such a time as it might be thought advisable to make a canvass for an endowment fund.

In the course of an address the president expressed the belief that the league was in every way serving the mission it was intended by its founders to serve and that its influence was already being felt for good on the Coast. He referred to the successful exhibition that have been held in this and other cities of the Coast and to the great public interest in architecture that these have aroused.

The feature of the programme was an address by John G. Howard, professor of architecture at the University of California, who spoke on the "Future of Architecture on the Pacific Coast." This eminent architect, who is famous as the creator of both the Buffalo and Alasca-Yukon expositions, architecturally speaking, declared that the signs of advance and development are everywhere to be seen on this Coast. Already, he asserted, the East had begun to come West for ideas on architecture. Myron Hunt led a general discussion on the subject of architectural exhibitions in the course of which it was brought out that the East could learn from Los Angeles and other Pacific Coast cities in this respect. There was also a brief discussion of the ethics of the architectural profession led by Edgar M. Lazarus of Portland.

GUESTS AT THEATRE. The architects at the convention were the guests of the Southern California Chapter of the American Institute of Architects and the Los Angeles Architectural Club at a theater party at the Orpheum, last night.

Today's sessions will begin at 10 o'clock and will include the election of officers, reports of committees and the naming of the time and place of the next convention, together with a number of noteworthy addresses. The subject of "Historical Precedent in Pacific Coast Architecture" will be discussed by Charles H. Alden of Seattle. John W. Mitchell will discuss "Art, Architecture and Art Commissions."

In the afternoon, the weather being favorable, the delegates will be driven in automobiles over a prescribed route through the city and vicinity. A banquet at the Angelus will be followed by a movement has been inaugurated by the Chinese of this city for a "Chinatown Beautiful," which will include strictly oriental types of architecture, a Cantonese tea garden, a Chinese Masonic Temple, a Chinese Chamber of Commerce building, a missionary institution and other structures, such as will be suited to the future Los Angeles and benefit the proposed civic center, contiguous to the present Chinatown.

"The Chinese favor the widening and paving of the streets in that the city and the appreciation suggestions from any of the members of your honorable body as to the best plan to be adopted in establishing the new Chinatown along the lines mentioned."

public is looking to Southern California and the Imperial Valley region for a large portion of the future supply, and that the Chinese of Los Angeles have been urged by the Chinese Importers' representatives at Hongkong to encourage the cotton industry in this State as far as possible, was learned last night when translated correspondence between the Los Angeles Chinese Consolidated Association and the Chinese Importers' Association of Canton was made public by the secretary at the Chinese-American branch of the organization at Nos. 469-10 Merchants Trust building.

Officials of the Chinese Consolidated Association stated that the Chinese government officials at Peking also are deeply interested in the report submitted two months ago relative to the possibilities of cotton culture in the Imperial Valley region, and explained a plan to make known the quantities which can be placed at good profit, the market conditions and demands, etc., at Hongkong and other ports of commerce and manufacture.

A representative of the Chinese government visited the Imperial Valley country two months ago and later submitted data which has enthused the Chinese with the possibilities there relative to the cotton prospects. Chinese consuls and diplomatic representatives have been active in Egypt and other countries for several months endeavoring to increase the cotton imports at Hongkong, where it is said several important industries have recently been seriously handicapped by their inability to secure sufficient supplies to keep pace with the demands.

COTTON PRIME OBJECT. Secretary Harry S. Quan of the Chinese Consolidated Association and representative of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, stated last night that the cotton industry had entered largely into the project for the new steamship line to Hongkong from Los Angeles. He also stated that China expects to do a vast business with the western coast of the United States in its future coal exports, as the government has received reports that the coal supply of the American mines is rapidly diminishing and it believes the United States must call on China for aid.

Arthur Rugh, student secretary of the Y.M.C.A. Committee of China, now in Los Angeles, pointed out to the Chinese when the Chinese conferred oriental structures, Japanese or East Indian, which, it is understood also are contemplated.

A mass meeting of the Chinese was held last evening in Chinatown, and plans for the beautification of Chinatown and for the proposed steamship line were discussed, and a line of

Has Time to Repent. twenty days for assaulting a man who refused to buy him a drink. The man, apparently about 60 years old, made his escape before Canfield was arrested, so the latter was only charged with being drunk. Canfield, according to the arresting officer, ran out of money and to continue his spree begged drinks. When the old man refused to buy, Canfield became angry and knocked him down.

LAUNDRY ORDINANCE IS DECLARED VALID.

JUDGE FINLAYSON upheld the much disputed laundry ordinance yesterday in a sweeping review of the testimony in the suit of Wong Sing who, backed by the resources of the six companies of San Francisco, attacked the constitutionality of the measure. Wong Sing conducts a laundry in the prescribed residence district. It was set out in the complaints that thirty-one laundries were being conducted in violation of the provisions of the ordinance.

Deputy City Prosecutor Nimmo, will probably prosecute the offenders. In the event of an arrest it was stated by former Judge Cook of San Francisco, who conducted the case for Wong Sing, that the first conviction will be carried to the Supreme Court on appeal.

The ordinance, Judge Finlayson decided, is a proper exercise of the police power. The laundry business, he said, is properly amenable to city regulation, one form of which is to segregate the business and put it in a prescribed district, prohibiting it from being operated in any other manner than the prescribed one.

He held that on its face the ordinance appeared to be valid. The testimony in the case showed that the laundries can be controlled by inspection and regulation. It had been declared that legislation is not confined to regulating disease, but fire menace is an incident which the court thought the City Council could take into consideration and therefore properly pass an ordinance.

The inspection which seems essential he thought could be more economical and more properly performed if the laundries are in a district by themselves. It is true that sanitary conditions have improved, but physicians who testified admitted that the laundry business is one which to some extent menaces the public health and they admitted that it requires some regulation. The court felt justified in saying that some segregation is proper in order to facilitate inspection.

Presbytery Opposes Move for Men's College.

Students and Alumni Given Part in Debate.

Leading Preacher's Theology
Is Questioned.

A good many persons want to the Presbytery of Los Angeles, anticipating a warm debate on the subject of elimination of co-education from Occidental College—and they got it. It was preceded by another session in which a proposition was made to recommend Rev. Robert Freeman of Pasadena, as the successor of Dr. Hugh Walker on the directorate of the Occidental Seminary. The motion was seconded by the moderator, when the venerable Dr. S. E. moved to amend that the matter be referred to a committee. It was stated, while on his feet, that his own for so doing was that Mr. Freeman had recently written an article for a magazine, which had been subjected to criticism, and he thought it was necessary to have such men connected with the college as were above criticism. The matter of suggesting a man then to a committee by a large vote. Ward had been made chairman. Committee came back with a recommendation that the Rev. Freeman be requested to name a man, but by that time the Presbytery had concluded that the report was almost unanimously voted down, the committee was discharged, and a request was made to the present directors of the college to fill the vacancy according to their own judgment.

Dr. Freeman's action was a question of having brought the subject to the attention of the Presbytery, but that he did so because his faith in the better of him. He felt that a recommendation was about to be made that he could not conscientiously endorse and he couldn't stand by. Mr. Freeman entered the church soon after this occurred, and this would have it, took a seat in Dr. Ward's pulpit, who was the one to greet him with a shake of the hand. The incident created a ripple of interest.

NOT TALK ON OCCIDENTAL. Occidental was a Presbytery college, reports of its condition being regularly made to the Presbytery, and while disclaiming any right to dictate to the college, the committee on the subject of the college, made an address to the trustees, the recent report concerning the recent action of the trustees to make it a strictly legal point of view.

Mr. Stevenson, "from the fact that we possibly have no right to discuss it, but have a right to discuss it. The fact that the constitution of the college is Presbyterian, the chairman feels free to introduce the subject, and for the first time forced to bring in an address." The resolutions introduced, and the effort to bar women from the college, was a subject which the college was founded on the principle that as a Christian college it should be free of the misapprehension of trust funds. It was then that Mr. Stevenson, "from the fact that we possibly have no right to discuss it, but have a right to discuss it. The fact that the constitution of the college is Presbyterian, the chairman feels free to introduce the subject, and for the first time forced to bring in an address."

The trustees would countenance, and if found wise, they would enter upon any discussion of the subject. John Willis Barker, a statement on behalf of the trustees, and the announcement of the trustees of five to investigate the matter of establishing a college of the same type and name as Occidental, possibly using the campus or seeking approval to relocate it. The June action of the trustees, which was met with lively protest, they received endorsement from the floor of the Presbytery was the place for the trustees to reason. GOVERNMENT TO SUPPLY POWER

Farmers of Salt River Valley Will Benefit.

Litigation Threatened Over Gila River Rights.

Woman Hundred and Eight Years Old in Court.

(Special Correspondence of The Times.)
PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 10.—Two organizations of Salt River Valley farmers now are being formed for the purpose of purchasing power in quantities from the electric system operated by the reclamation service. One of these companies comprises the land owners around Scottsdale and the other will tap the neighborhood of the Indian School, north of Phoenix, the Indian School itself to be included within the list of consumers. Transformer stations will have to be erected, from which low voltage lines will lead to the points of consumption. The power will probably be sold at not above 2 cents per kilowatt hour, providing cheap power for the operation of the machinery of the farms and illumination as well. Most of the power at present comes from the Roosevelt dam, though a number of large power stations soon will be in operation at points along the larger valleys. There is a prospect for litigation in Pinal county over an appropriation filed by the Casa Grande Valley Water Users' Association upon 49,000 miles of unappropriated water of the Gila River, to be diverted at a heading already under location by the Pinal Water Company and now claimed by assignment of that corporation. A new canal is now being laid off by the association, running to a point near Casa Grande station on the Southern Pacific, paralleling the old Florence Canal, which for years has been half filled with silt and has not been available for the irrigation needs of its community.

ARTESIAN WELL SPOTS.
At the depth of 800 feet, a strong artesian flow, leaping far into the air, was struck in a well bored on the Willis-Kellogg ranch near Mammock, Pinal county. The well was being bored for oil, however, so the water will be used for the drilling and continued to 1000 feet of depth if necessary. Artesian water is of the highest value in that locality, where there is an abundance of good agricultural land, with practically no permanent surface flow of water, but it can be tapped by other wells at any time desired.

Tempe by popular vote has granted a franchise to the Salt River Valley Electric Railway Company, locally known as the "White Line," for the building of a passenger and freight road through that town. Similar franchises have been granted by Phoenix and Mesa. The line will have its terminus at the eastern part of Phoenix and will tap Scottsdale and the northeastern part of the Salt River Valley, as well as Tempe and Mesa on the south side, passing over Salt River by means of a steel bridge at Tempe. It is believed likely that the road has some connection with the Santa Fe, which has been cut out of Mesa and Tempe traffic ever since the transfer of the Phoenix & Eastern Railroad to the Southern Pacific. There is also a possibility that the line may be extended toward the southeast, to give the Santa Fe a connection at Tucson with the El Paso & Southwestern Railroad system.

Senator Mark Smith has presented to President Taft a petition from the citizens of Pinal county asking pardon for S. H. Seider of Florence, convicted of improper use of the mails in connection with the exploitation of the Two Queens mining property. Winkelman. It is alleged that Seider had no share in the fraudulent practices by means of which stock in the corporation was sold to eastern victims. The crime was fastened definitely upon the Horne brothers of Kansas City, who received therefore heavy sentences. Seider, at the time and had nothing to do with the advertising, though he acted as local agent for the corporation.

ATTAINS RIPE OLD AGE.
A few days ago in the court of Justice C. W. Johnston appeared as witness, a sharp-featured and clear-eyed old woman, who testified for the State in a case against a Mexican accused of stabbing Loreto Garrodo, her son. Inasmuch as Garrodo stated that he was 80 years old, and he looked all of that, there was inquiry concerning the age of his mother. She testified that she was 103 years old and intelligently cited incidents of Mexican history that sustained her claim. Loreto Garrodo failed to see anything very remarkable in the age or activities of Señora Garrodo and told that within the city is another Mexican woman, Señora Luis Parra, who was born in Hermosillo, Mex., one hundred and fifteen years ago and who has lived in this locality since its earliest settlement.

At Hayden has been occupied the new bank building of the Gila Valley Bank & Trust Company, a handsome concrete structure especially notable in its frontage, with heavy Corinthian columns.

In the southwestern part of the city is being completed a $25,000 storage warehouse for Armour & Company, two stories in height and 55x21 feet in size.

R. J. Lester, lately connected with the Bullock store in Los Angeles, has purchased an interest in one of the dry goods establishments, of which he will hereafter be manager.

M. R. Leiber of Hayden was married Saturday in Phoenix to Miss Olive Nichols of Los Angeles.

In the District Court last week John O. Ming was granted a divorce from Virginia A. Ming on the ground of desertion. Mrs. Ming for a year or more has been a resident of Los Angeles.

John A. Fox, representing the Panama-California Exposition at San Diego, has been in Phoenix for a week, and has succeeded in securing a passage of a resolution in the Legislature for the appointment of a commission to represent the State in securing a site for an Arizona building on the exposition grounds.

THREATENED BY FIRE.
PISCOTT HAD CLOSE CALL.

(Special Correspondence of The Times.)
PISCOTT (Ariz.) April 9.—Early yesterday morning the business section of Prescott had a narrow escape from another fire such as that which destroyed the central portion of the city a few years ago. Defective wiring was the cause of a serious blaze in the Head Hotel, where more than one hundred guests were domiciled. The city fire department and a large part of the population did strenuous work and managed to save the surrounding buildings and to restrain the loss to not over $20,000.

A call has been issued at Flagstaff for the organization of Taft clubs within the county. The notices come directly from the Coconino County Republican Central Committee, and are signed by Chairman L. F. Verkamp and Secretary B. A. Cameron. After two months' delay for the lack of casing, work is to be resumed at once at the depth of 575 feet on the well of the Verde Valley Oil Company.

The Verde Valley oil field is being added to continually, locations having been made during the past week in an extension east of Clear Creek, under the Mogollon Rim.

Early last week fourteen inches of snow fell near Williams, where all the mountain tanks are filled, and where streams are running that have been dry for more than a year.

The Rev. L. F. G. Mitchell of Tolchaco and Missionary Butler are working on the translation of the scriptures into the Navajo Indian tongue. A similar task has been about completed by several Franciscan monks at Ft. Defiance.

In the northeastern part of the Navajo Reservation, not far from Tuba, are extensive coal fields, not worked on account of their location on the reservation and lack of transportation facilities. One of the coal veins has been on fire for several years. Late in the fire has been attacked by force of government employees and Indians, in an attempt to dig away the burned coal or to smother the blaze.

The government bridge across the Little Colorado River, north of Flagstaff, is now fully complete, and is in daily use. It has a single span of 180 feet, one of the longest in the world in bridges of that type.

More Trouble.

ROLLS AROUND AND IS ROLLED.

JAILED, RELEASED, ROBBED, JAILED AGAIN.

Man Whose Wife Chased Him to the Antipodes to Regain Son Falls
Among Thieves Who Leave Him
Pinched and Senseless in a Cab,
His Boy's Shoe in His Pocket.

F. Stuart Seelye, of Fair Oaks avenue, Pasadena, former employee of Adolphus Busch, was taken to the Receiving Hospital yesterday in a state of semi-coma after several hours riding about the city in a cab with casual acquaintances. He says the latter robbed him of his money and left him to pay for the cab. Among the man's personal effects was one of the shoes his little son wore on a sensational trip around the world a year ago when the child was brought back from the Antipodes by his mother.

Seelye was arrested Tuesday night for intoxication. In the tank two men, whom he says, he does not now remember, were upon him, upon the fact that he had met them in San Diego sometime ago. The trio were released in the sunrise court. At No. 224 South Spring street, a back was telephoned for. One of the two strangers told the cabman they wanted to see the city.

Half an hour later, when rain began to descend in torrents, the cabman asked for instructions. He was surprised to find his cab empty except for Seelye, who was doubled up in one corner sound asleep. There were three overcoats in the bottom of the cab and drawn around were man and Seelye's personal effects. The driver could not awaken Seelye. Fearing the man had been drugged and robbed he drove to the Receiving Hospital. Seelye was found not to have been drugged and was sent back to jail. Detectives then began a search for Seelye's companions.

When Seelye took his son on his trip from Pasadena to San Francisco, and thence to Australia and the Antipodes, he was traced by detectives. His wife, supplied with money by members of his family, followed him, recovered her son and returned to this country. Seelye also came back, and later opened physical training parlors in Pasadena. He is said to come of a wealthy family. Mr. Seelye has been employed as a housekeeper.

The Standard Oil Company has struck a big pocket of gas on section 16, 22-24, at a depth of 500 feet, much shallower than any previous strike of gas in the West field. The flow of gas is immense, but doubt is entertained as to whether it will continue any length of time.

ALLEGATIONS AGAINST WOMAN TO BE PROSECUTED.

Hollywood Man Ascertains He Purchased a Relinquishment on Public Lands Which Officials Say Never Existed—Example to Be Made to Prevent Its Recurrence.

Gratz W. Helm, chief of the field division of the local land office, expects to file with the District Attorney today charges against Dr. Henrietta R. Sweet, No. 905 Fedora street, this city, alleging that she got $100 from Frederick A. Kuhlman, No. 217 South Willard avenue, Hollywood, by false pretenses.

The charge against the woman is the old familiar one of inducing the unsuspecting to pay money for a relinquishment of an entry on public land, when, as a matter of fact, no entry existed, and of disposing of a relinquishment that describes undesirable public land, after showing the victim land not included in the description.

Some days ago, Kuhlman wrote the local land office asking to know who had an entry on land upon which he had filed a desert land claim some time before. The land which Kuhlman thought he had purchased in the relinquishment consisted of 160 acres located near Victorville, San Bernardino county. He declared that he had paid $100 to Dr. Sweet for it. It is alleged that the doctor had shown him a piece of land in San Bernardino county with a description of the time, and he paid her the money on the representation that it cost that amount for a relinquishment.

Kuhlman was told to get a receipt for money which he did, and was then informed that no entry had ever been made on the land so there was no relinquishment to purchase. The land shown to Kuhlman, it is said, was of superior character, while the land that he filed upon was many miles away and poor.

Dr. Sweet was summoned to the office of Register Burden and Receiver Robinson and she was told that if she would settle with Kuhlman, the matter might be adjusted in some

President Osborne of the Chamber of Commerce was authorized yesterday to appoint a committee of three to make arrangements for a popular banquet and smoker, some time in May. This will undoubtedly get together a large percentage of the membership who will have an opportunity to get acquainted with each other.

Vice-President Clark announced the appointment of Congressman Stephens to represent the Chamber of Commerce at a conference of commercial organizations, to be held in Washington, April 22.

Sulphurro!

Rheumatism—Its Causes, and Why Stewart's Liquid Compound of Sulphur Makes Remarkable Cures

ALL POISONS MUST BE DRIVEN OUT OF THE BLOOD

Sulphurro the Agent for Purifying System and Restoring Health.

POISON'S REMOVAL IS NECESSARY AT ONCE.

Letters to C. M. C. Stewart Sulphur Company Tells of Years of Suffering Ended by Use of New Medicine—Humanity the Great Gainer.

Rheumatism is the bane of more lives in this western country than any other affliction. Rich and poor, young and old, it chooses its victims indifferently, as scabies, or favors. It takes many forms and attacks many parts of the body. As inflammatory rheumatism, it gives its victims untold suffering; as sciatica, the lower limbs are sorely affected, and the patient is often rendered helpless.

Rheumatism is caused by the presence of uric acid in the blood. This insidious poison gets into the system, and to cure rheumatism until it is removed is an impossibility. The way to strike at rheumatism is to introduce some element into the blood that will drive out the uric acid. This agent for the removal of uric acid has at last been found in Sulphurro, the liquid compound of sulphur, which has already reduced the pain in the land by a generous portion. When it comes to be known better and appreciated fully in every State in the Union, it will be universally recognized as a blessing to humanity.

Sulphurro Purifies the Blood.
Sulphurro is nature's own blood purifier. The secret of Sulphurro's power is that, through it, sulphur in liquid form is absorbed directly into the system through the stomach, the pores of the skin and in other ways, and acts as a disinfecting and highly purifying influence.

Germs and impurities cannot exist in the presence of sulphur. You remember that sulphur fumes are always used in cleansing a room after a contagious disease.

While sulphur is the most important element in the human system, it is equally beneficial and health giving in the system. Sometimes one and sometimes another of these elements is needed by the individual sufferer.

What cures of rheumatism are there? Sulphurro has wrought may be judged from the following extracts from letters on file in the Sulphurro offices, Polson Building, Seattle.

"A Wonderful Medicine."

"Sulphurro is a wonderful medicine for rheumatism."—Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sharp, Mukilteo, Wash.

"Have been using Sulphurro for rheumatism; I am entirely cured."—Charles J. Johnson, Hotel Washington Annex, Seattle.

"I suffered everything from rheumatism, and after taking two bottles it left me entirely."—Mrs. A. Patterson, Mount Vernon, Wash.

"For years I had rheumatism. I have taken about one-fourth of a bottle of Sulphurro and am entirely cured."—B. M. Francis, Paulsen Building, Spokane.

"Rheumatism compelled me to retire from work. In three days after taking Sulphurro I was back at work."—Lawrence Leed, purser steamer Atlanta.

"Sulphurro gave me great relief. I suffered fifteen years with rheumatism. Sulphurro cured it."—C. Burke, 1514 Tenth Avenue, Seattle.

Relieves With Rheumatism.

"Between January, a year ago, and July, I had four attacks of rheumatism, each worse than the one before, until it got me in a helpless condition, where for days I was flat on my back, unable to move or turn without help. Six weeks after commencing your Sulphurro treatment I went to the Olympic Mountains on hunting and fishing trip, and I was running everywhere over the mountains. I have had no rheumatism since."—H. K. Kettner, Jr., Mendota, Cal. & Co., Seattle.

"I suffered the agonies of rheumatism for months when you gave me a bottle of your remedy. In two weeks the pain was entirely gone and a month later the stiffness had entirely disappeared from my joints."—Mrs. Lulu Baker, Georgetown, Wash.

"I had a very bad leg, crippled with rheumatism, so I could hardly walk. After using Sulphurro I was perfectly well."—Chas. W. Mansfield, care of California Commission Co., Seattle.

Rheumatism Cured in Three Weeks.

"My rheumatism left me in less than three weeks after commencing the treatment."—James W. Law, 4313 Fourteenth Avenue Northeast, Seattle.

"I was once strong and healthy and had a clear complexion, but from the effects of rheumatism I gradually grew weaker. When I began taking Sulphurro I had a pale, death-like complexion, but now I have regained my strength, and have a color that any young woman or man might envy. I am proud to say that I owe my present healthy condition to Sulphurro."—L. Schaffner, Hotel Rhine, Seattle.

"I am now more free from acute pain and suffering than I have been for fifteen years, during all of which time I had been afflicted with rheumatism, which did not yield to the usual treatments. I credit my present good health to the use of Sulphurro."—D. B. Ward, King County Court House, Seattle.

Drug Stores Have It.

Sulphurro is on sale in drug stores throughout Los Angeles, San Diego and other cities and towns in this territory, but because of the difficulty of supplying the trade on such short notice it may be possible that here and there a supply has been overlooked. If you find you can't get Sulphurro from your regular druggist, try the next one, and then if you fail to get it, send word to the nearest office of C. M. C. Stewart Sulphur Company, 71 Columbia street, Seattle, Wash., and your order will be promptly filled at the same price. Please let us know the name of your druggist, so that he may have an opportunity to obtain a supply of Sulphurro from us.

Sulphurro is put up in two sizes and sells for 50 cents and $1. When you order direct from our laboratory the same price will be forwarded you by mail and the larger by express.

An interesting 32-page booklet containing full directions for the use of Sulphurro accompanies each bottle. Read it carefully and follow instructions. What Sulphurro has done for others it will do for you, but do not invest your money in Sulphurro unless you fully intend to follow directions.

Road to Owensmouth

Van Nuys Lankershim Lands

1, 2 and 5 Acre Tracts

Adjoining this new town are hundreds of acres of the richest land — subdivided into tracts of all sizes, the smallest ones right at the edge of the town, just ripe for subdivision in the near future.

This splendid acreage shares in all the advantages afforded by the magnificent $500,000 boulevard and new electric road. Bank some money here—it is to double in value in a few years.

The near completion of the immense improvement and the great opening sale of business and real estate lots at Owensmouth, makes this doubly attractive.

The farsighted man will act now. At the low opening prices the buyer, who uses the land for farming or fruit trees, or for quick turn, should reap a harvest of profit in a few years.

The soil is deep and rich and fertile—and irrigated.

The fine orange and olive orchards nearby are of its productiveness.

Now Is Your Opportunity

With this great location, the excellent transportation facilities, the remarkable soil and the low opening prices, these "close-in" tracts afford the chance to realize enormous profits.

Buy before the improvements are completed, the rapid selling of the new townsite forces a sale.

We have a few especially fine 10 and 20 acre tracts on the $500,000 boulevard.

Own a country estate or small ranch.

Do not delay. Come out and see for yourself. Our machines make several trips daily.

BUILD HARBOR PIERS.

city—that of the City Engineer's office—were superior to the others. But he virtually threw all the plans aside, incorporating, however, the valuable features of the city's plan in a new one, under which the harbor line was altered so as to give double the frontage of Wilmington basin, yet constructing only 500 feet of wharfage.
So far from the estimates being $139 and $143 a foot, as made heretofore, he said $100 a foot would be only a fair estimate, thus saving at one swoop, so to speak, a figure that was calculated by the engineers as the difference between $344,000 and $240-000.

The commission decided to follow
Goodrich's suggestion and advertise for bids for the 500 feet of wharf front recommended by him, but prior to letting the contracts a public meeting is to be held at Wilmington where the changes will be explained in detail by Commissioner Richards and the City Engineer.

FIREPROOF AND ADAPTABLE.
"We believe that with the modifications made," says Goodrich, and Hamlin joins with him in the statement,
"there will be secured to the city a construction which is entirely fireproof and wharves which will be adapted to the use of practically any variety of commerce that they may be called upon to serve."

The changes in the contour of the basin at Wilmington will require the consent of the United States government and several changes in the contour line of the outer harbor are also recommended by Goodrich. These will have to be made, he told the commission, if the city is to get the full benefit of its harbor.

At 9:15 o'clock this morning, the delegation to Washington to appear before the Senate Committee in the interest of the harbor will start from Los Angeles. The delegation consists of Mayor Harrison, President of the Chamber of Commerce, J. B. Elliott, who was appointed by the Council, notified that body yesterday that "owing to circumstances that have occurred since my appointment," he considered that it is "inadvisable for me to accept the commission." General Chaffee did not want to go, but President Williams of the City Council urged upon him that no one could be of such service, so he was prevailed upon to go.

COUNTY MINISTERS MEET.
San Diego. Congregationalists Hold Convention and Discuss Matters of Importance to Denomination.
ESCONDIDO, April 10.—Important matters of interest to the denomination were discussed at the convention of Congregational churches and ministers of San Diego county at the local Congregational Church, which closed yesterday afternoon. The speakers were Rev. W. C. Conrad of Alpine, Rev. Stephen G. Emerson, pastor of the Los Angeles Church,
San Diego; Rev. C. W. Hill of La
Meza; Rev. Dr. W. A. Waterman;
pastor of the Los Angeles Church,
San Diego; Rev. C. N. Hand of Lemon Grove; Rev. J. B. Toomey of Chula Vista; Rev. T. D. McLean of Escondido; Rev. R. B. Larkin of Los Angeles, missionary superintendent for Southern California; Rev. H. Melville
Tenney of San Francisco, Pacific Coast secretary of the American Board of Foreign Missions. Rev. Mr. Larkin spoke upon the religious life and conditions in Southern California, and Rev. Mr. Tenney referred particularly to the mission work and conditions in China. Most of the churches of the denomination in the county were represented.

NEWS BRIEFS.
Mrs. Eunice E. Stiles, wife of Deputy Sheriff J. E. Stiles, died this morning, after a short illness, aged 51.
The body will be taken to Pickett, Calif., for burial. Mrs. Stiles came here with her husband from Shelton, Wyo., in 1892. Besides her husband she leaves three sons, three daughters and all residing in Iowa and the Dakotas.

While it is customary to elect the president of the Board of City Trustees by ballot, it is considered likely by many people that by consent of the other members, W. N. Bradbury or W. H. Davis may decide the honors by lot. Mr. Davis, who comes here from Denver, and who is a retired administrator, is one of the three new members of the board. The others are Oliver Oaks, a rancher, and E. J.
Loveless, a citrus fruit packer. Mr.
Bradbury and Charles S. Libby are returned to the new board.

Ten blocks of Nutmeg street, or the San Diego road, as it is called, are being plowed up and graded. Five blocks of Lime street, between Dakota and Ohio avenues, are being graded to official grade, including sidewalks.

NO FIGHT CLUB HERE FOR JIMMY COFFROTH.

BY GREY OLIVER.

"I DON'T know anything about any new fight club at Venice or at any other point in Southern California," remarked Jimmy Coffroth, last night, "and I am not going into any such scheme."
This is Jimmy Coffroth's answer to the rumor that he is here to get into a new club in opposition to the Pacific Athletic Club. The story is that Coffroth, or interests he is friendly to, have figured on taking over the license that Bill Aldridge is said to have for Venice, and putting in a big club in the beach city.
Coffroth stated last night that Aldridge had made an informal appointment with him on some subject, but that Aldridge did not state the nature of the business he desired to talk about.
"I've got too much business in San Francisco to bother my head about anything else in the fight line in this end of the State," added Jim, "and I would be foolish to think of such a thing. There is absolutely nothing doing for me in that line here and you can make that as strong as you like."
Tom Jones stated last night that he heard of such rumors, but he knew nothing definite about them. He was not to be interested in any of the new proposed clubs, and as far as he knew, neither Harry Monahan, Jeffries, or Clarence Perry were to be interested in any such clubs.
"I've heard talk of an opposition club, but I know nothing about it," declared Jones. "I believe, however, that there is room for one or more new clubs, and these would make competition and that is the life of business. That is what every line of business needs."
Jones was rather amused last night about the tales that Conley was to meet Jack White or anyone here.
"That's all news to me," remarked fast taking on a cosmopolitan nature, on the entry list will be found old and young, Americans and English, Germans and French, Italians and Greeks and last, but not least, will be found the Indians, who are going out to represent the original American citizen in the big race.

The American Indian is usually a stoical individual, but in regard to The Times Marathon the ones entered are far from that, all are out training night and day, and are counting on making some of their white brothers travel to get within the prize list.
Sky Eagle came in this week and signed up as a running mate of Judson Cubey. This Sky person has an interesting career. He started to school at the Mt. Pleasant Institute with Cubey, and after a great athletic regard as a football and baseball man, he was graduated with scholastic honors. Cubey went on to Carleton, where he became a long distance runner of some note, but Sky Eagle was taken by the glare of the footlights and went on the road with a one-night stand barnstorming troupe.
"Sky Eagle has been doing a little of everything since that time, but all the time has been training. He has

HOW MAJOR LEAGUE TEAMS LOOK AS SEASON OPENS.

No Great Strength to Any of Them—Seven National League Clubs Have a Chance for the Pennant.
American League Flag Looks Sure for the Athletics.
Both Philadelphia Teams Good.

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON.

Mr. Fullerton predicts that the major league teams will finish in the following order:

AMERICAN.	NATIONAL.
Philadelphia.	Philadelphia.
Boston.	Chicago.
Cleveland.	New York.
Detroit.	Pittsburgh.
Chicago.	St. Louis.
Washington.	Cincinnati.
New York.	Brooklyn.
St. Louis.	Boston.

It promises to be the greatest and hardest-fought baseball season in years.
Spring training has done little to show the fans and students of the game the possibilities of new strength for beyond doubt it has been the most wretched training season in the history of the modern game. Not one team today is really fit and in proper shape to start a season.
The advantage in the training. If any, has accrued to the Philadelphia Athletics, the Chicago White Sox, the New York Giants and the lowly Hoston Nationals. Yet the war correspondents who have been touring with these clubs are loud in their cries that the teams are backward in conditioning. The Chicago Cubs appear to have had the worst deal from the weather man of any of the teams.
The one who complains loudest, however, may not be worst off, and there are sixteen clubs declaring that the weather has hurt them.
Prospects for the first six weeks of the season are for a lot of miserable up and down baseball, with the teams possessing the best conditioned pitching corps leading. After the first of June the teams will begin to show their real form, but up to that time any club lucky enough to have four even, fast pitchers working right ought to win a hard fight.
I have had letters the last week from seven major league managers.
All seven complain that the weather has held back the development of their teams. As prevented, in a measure, any chance of getting an accurate, line on their youngsters, and, oddly enough, five of the seven declare that while their teams generally are not in good shape, the pitching staff is in fair condition.
This can mean only one thing and that is that every major league manager has been devoting all his efforts to getting his pitchers into condition, each hoping to gain the start on the other clubs through steady and consistent work.
ATHLETICS, BAD LUCK.
It looks, sadly enough, as if the Boston Nationals, the country has come out of the spring training in best condition. The Athletics had more luck with the weather and played more baseball than any of the other teams, although Comiskey and McGraw had two or three troops of comedians playing under the alias of the Sox and Giants and gathering in nickels at tank towns. Some do not yet realize that major league baseball isn't a nickel moving-picture show. I doubt if two teams in the country paid expenses on the training trip, and the results financially, as otherwise, were discouraging.
The Boston Nationals have been the greatest surprise of the spring to me and still have me puzzled. They don't seem to have any pitching trouble at all, yet this spring their pitchers have been holding all opponents to low scores, and as far as the box scores indicate, the team has been playing well in defense. It can hit beyond a doubt.
RECRUITS NOT WONDER.
There is no serious reason for believing that any one of the major league teams has added any great strength. The American League appears to have had slightly the better of the new material, but that may be because several of the teams were badly in need of patching.
The newcomers who are likely to create a furor and step up into the star ranks right away are Cashion, the big right-handed pitcher of Washington, who, according to Griffith, has shown even more promise this spring than he did last fall; Peters and Dehl of the White Sox, especially Peters; Buck O'Brien of the Boston Red Sox; Kuhn, the Coast league catcher, belonging to the Sox; and Rath, who has earned a steady place at second on the Sox.
Connie Mack has Danforth and Harry Wolverton has a bunch of new talent, most of which slipped so hard after being puffed to the skies that he opens practically with the

HOW HIS PICKS 'EM.

If compelled to pick the way that the eight clubs in each league will finish, I would line them up as they appear at the head of this column.
That is the way they figure, but as close do some of the spring figures to that a couple of bad decisions or three or four passed balls might change them all around.
To me the National League race looks to be the most promising, for there actually are seven clubs with a possible chance to win that pennant, and Boston is such an odd ball ball club it may turn the whole race upside down, even if it still remains eight. That club is going to muscle everything, because it is just as likely to beat a strong team as it is to beat a weak one. It can hit terrifically and whenever a pitcher lets down an inning or two it will be all over.
I figure that the Philadelphia have the best chance, as their pitching staff seems more consistent than any of the others. But it looks as if the first four—Philadelphia, New York, Pittsburgh and Chicago—will be all in a bunch until some accident or bad run of luck befalls one.
St. Louis and Cincinnati ought to be close up with Brooklyn, not far behind. It promises to be the finest race the National League ever has had, and I do not expect any club to get far above the 500 mark before July 4, and I think a percentage of 420 will win the pennant.
ATHLETICS SURE WINNERS.
The American League race appears all over now, so far as the pennant is concerned, as the Athletics appear to be the class of the country, and to be stronger this season than they were last. At that, I do not expect the Athletics to win as many games as they did last season, as the competition will be keener. Boston figures as second, with Cleveland and Detroit close up. I believe Boston, Cleveland and Detroit will be in a bunch, forty or fifty points behind the Athletics, the major portion of the season.
Chicago has a chance on pitching.

Four headshots of national note on a single bill.

Muriel Starr had a bridge party last night.

Who she's playing yet she had a party and a bunch of other people sitting in the game.

It was that Muriel is some stickler here.

It was twisted on Muriel's first local appearance.

Muriel Starr—to quit this unassuming familiarity—will debut at the Burbank Theatre one week from next season, in her original part in "The Stranger."

She will not appear in "David Harmer."

Harry James, the director, stage-manager, composer, semi-author, head property man, scene-designer and orchestral conductor at the Lyceum is not the only man-of-all-work about Fisher's girl Lyceum.

Lon Chapin, whose extremely clever and intelligent Italian character "The Peck" is the dancing master of the Lyceum, and the designer and manager of all the chorus.

The next show, "Johnny," Chapin will play a Kentucky colonel.

The Brown family, Margaret Hillston and Edward J., has concluded the Chicago performance of "Kindred" and will tour the western road.

Edna Darrah seems destined to be a Western Cerebral Farmer.

Edna has been given a two-year contract by the Metro opera company.

Wallace Munro, the Beau Brummell of the Olympic Delit, the White House of all advance men, is in town.

The Mountain Ash Male Choir, which began its Orpheum tour at Mill, has scored a brilliant success.

Two prominent players, who began Orpheum tours this week, were Frank Gibson and Mrs. Louis James.

Not to have heard Stuart Barnes is to have missed many of the best-told stories to be heard in vaudeville.

A dramatic playlet that is causing considerable discussion is "Fear." The story has to do with a man's dread of his own conscience.

Yesterday at Mr. Beck's London of 400 contracts which had been pending for some time, were signed.

John Cort has re-engaged several of the principals of "The Rose of Panama" company for the western tour.

Mrs. Leslie Carter's season in Rupert Hughes' drama, "Two Women," will not end until the second week in May.

Oliver Morosco will send Max Flegman to the Pacific Coast next season in Hayden Talbot's newspaper comedy, "The Truth Wagon." Mr. Flegman's season will begin at the Cort Theatre, Chicago, in August.

William Hodge hasn't always been the star of a play of the importance of "The Man from Home," and he hasn't always been so comfortably housed as he will be when he comes to the Majestic next Sunday night.

There was a time when Hodge was engaged in that widening and ennobling experience known as "characterizing," and there isn't any false pride in the Hodge make-up, which prevents illusion to that period.

"Only once," said he, "was I really stranded, and that was in a little New York town several years ago. We had got a stage hand refused to be elevated, and I and kindred bold spirits had taken a sporting flutter and hired the town hall for $20 for a performance of 'East Lynne.' We didn't come up to our guarantee, for there was exactly $18.46 in the house when all had been counted."

"We were feeling pretty blue, I can tell you, and when the kindly-faced old gentleman who was either the manager of the house, the janitor, or the sexton, approached, we decided to ask him to help us with money enough to get to the next town. We had got as far as to tell him we were without funds when he stopped us, and left abruptly, saying he would see what could be done. He was gone three quarters of an hour. When he returned, he said:

"'Boys, it's all right. I couldn't get this thing myself, because I ain't got all the way. But the other trustees were willing to help when I explained the thing to them. You don't have to worry about that other 40 cents.'"

One of the amusing characterizations in "Over Night" now the Majestic Theatre, is that of a country hotel clerk, enacted by Arthur Aylworth. The part of the clerk in the average country hotel is vividly portrayed by Mr. Aylworth. One of the amusing incidents in the comedy is the scene in the Rip Van Winkle Inn in the Catskills. With one exception, the guests, including the honey-mooning couple, whose misadventures comprise the plot, have retired for the night. The exception is "Al" Rivers, a young man who has fallen violently and apparently hopelessly in love with Caroline Powers, also one of the hotel guests.

The clerk turns off the lights, leaving the office only illuminated by the subdued light of the moon and the red glare from a great open fireplace. The clerk, seeing him, picks up a guitar, and commences to play and croon a little love song. Rivers, attracted by the sympathetic music, saunters over to another seat in front of the clerk, and tries to engage him in conversation.

The nonchalant manner, and without jerking out between the lines of the song, are really witty.

"I guess I'll go to work," said Rivers. "I want to win a girl. How did you get your job?"

"I applied for it," is the answer. "In this the first job you applied for?"

"No, the seventh."

"How much do you get?"

"Forty dollars a month."

"That ain't much to keep a wife on, is it?"

"No; women is hellishly expensive. Why don't you try to be a bartender or a barber? Barbers get lots of tips."

And to the conversation goes on, with the guitar accompaniment and the voice of the singer.

John Cort has re-engaged several of the principals of "The Rose of Panama" company for the western tour.

Mrs. Leslie Carter's season in Rupert Hughes' drama, "Two Women," will not end until the second week in May.

Oliver Morosco will send Max Flegman to the Pacific Coast next season in Hayden Talbot's newspaper comedy, "The Truth Wagon." Mr. Flegman's season will begin at the Cort Theatre, Chicago, in August.

SKY EAGLE TO RUN.

run before, but is a natural runner, as can be seen by simply watching him eat up the ground with his long legs.

Cabey has more experience than any other in active competition in races of this nature, but it was the tribal spirit that fired the blood in the veins of the Eagle and made him come out, he wants to show that the American Indian is still a sturdy type of manhood.

Another of these original Americans came to the front yesterday in Philip Zeyouma of the Sherman Institute at Riverside. He is a little fellow, but all there when it comes to running. He says that he has been training for this race during the past two months, but was not willing to enter till he was sure of his condition, as he wants to make a showing that will do his tribe, the Hopi, proud; well he is right and ready for the race.

Yesterday there was no trial spin over the course, but between showers in the morning, Louie Becker went over the course, covering the same in remarkable time, considering the fact that he was running in water and mud. He wanted to see how good he was, and now he feels sure of taking out up here just to try out. Becker took fifth place in the Venice to Los Angeles road race, two years ago. In the East he has a good record in the five and ten-mile races, most of which were held in the Madison Square Gardens, New York.

At the present time the club has eighteen men training for the race, and the coming trout is something of an elimination contest. After the run Sunday, if it is made, ten men will be picked and sent into the race as a team. The club is out for blood this time, and not only wants to walk away with the team cup, but all the rest of the bill of fare. To it boys, we are behind you from the start.

Cabey has more experience than any other in active competition in races of this nature, but it was the tribal spirit that fired the blood in the veins of the Eagle and made him come out, he wants to show that the American Indian is still a sturdy type of manhood.

Another of these original Americans came to the front yesterday in Philip Zeyouma of the Sherman Institute at Riverside. He is a little fellow, but all there when it comes to running. He says that he has been training for this race during the past two months, but was not willing to enter till he was sure of his condition, as he wants to make a showing that will do his tribe, the Hopi, proud; well he is right and ready for the race.

Yesterday there was no trial spin over the course, but between showers in the morning, Louie Becker went over the course, covering the same in remarkable time, considering the fact that he was running in water and mud. He wanted to see how good he was, and now he feels sure of taking out up here just to try out. Becker took fifth place in the Venice to Los Angeles road race, two years ago. In the East he has a good record in the five and ten-mile races, most of which were held in the Madison Square Gardens, New York.

THE POLITICAL WATCHTOWER

One of the group of men who made Chicago the center of the world called at the headquarters in the Angelus Hotel here yesterday to emphasize his belief that the women of California should stand by President Taft in the primary contest and at the polls.

He is Samuel W. Alorton, formerly of Chicago. Alorton is 54 years old and lives in retirement and happiness at South Pasadena. During the Chicago fight the women had no stauncher or more liberal friend than he. His age prevented much active work, but he gave all he could and his generosity was responsible for the effective organization of the campaign that ended in suffrage victory for the women.

His visit was caused by the constant efforts of the politicians of the Johnson machine to convince the women that they should vote for Roosevelt and with Johnson because they were the friends of suffrage. To this Mr. Alorton yesterday gave out the following answer:

To the women of California:

"You have a great interest in the nomination and election of William Howard Taft than men."

He is your true friend, he is for women, not for men. In all wars, the women are the sufferers. They lose their husbands and sons. There are more women than men, and women are human in occupations that are repulsive and degrading to them.

"You won your rights to the elective franchise in California, by your united efforts."

You now have the opportunity to show to the world that the elective franchise for women was a blessing to the world and California.

You saved Los Angeles from the Socialist and its downfalls, but you put money and did all I could to win your rights in California. I have no interest in politics except for the best interest of my country.

We have grown more in charity and good-will in the last 15 years than we did for 100 years before.

"Shall it be destroyed? We know that men and women must have some restraint over themselves, or they will not amount to anything. Our forefathers realized the people were made up of individuals, so they divided the power of the nation into legislative, executive and judicial departments, that they might have some restraint over each other (the people)."

It is for you and by you that it be kept for future generations, that they may receive and enjoy its blessings."

I sincerely hope the women of California will see who their friends are; surely not Gov. Johnson, nor Theodore Roosevelt, who would not give women any encouragement. In fact, were opposed to them.

"It is for you to say, 'Shall we have peace with the world, shall we have the blessings and prosperity we have had in the past?'"

Nothing has been more willfully misrepresented than the attitude of the Johnson machine on woman suffrage. The Governor really opposed some of his closest friends, including Marshall Stinson of Los Angeles, now a candidate for delegate in Congress. The Governor's attitude was Stinson's behalf, opposed it strongly.

Roosevelt, himself, within the last two weeks, has only said that he believed the women ought to have the right to vote. He has not said that he believed that question themselves a convening of all the politicians who opposed suffrage during the session of the Legislature. When the fate of the suffrage amendment was in the balance and Johnson was in Los Angeles, Mrs. Edward A. Stinson, Mrs. Charles Farwell Edson and others leading the women asked for an expression. The Governor was with Stinson, who said: "Don't you do it, Governor." The Governor turned on his heel and left the women.

The Taft Republicans of Palma have arranged a rally for Saturday of next week and have asked Capt. J. D. Bridgerick, District Attorney of Los Angeles, to speak.

Taft Republicans of the Wilshire district will meet tonight at the home of Mrs. A. A. Martin, No. 247 South Granddune street, to further the organization of their club, begun so conspicuously last week. Capt. W. T. Haines of the District Attorney's office will be the principal speaker. There is abundant room at the Martin home, and the club has invited men as well as women to the meeting.

THE WATCHMAN.

TAFT'S GREATEST ACHIEVEMENT.

[Portland Oregonian:] The greatest achievement of President Taft is without question the enforcement of the anti-trust law. This was the most distinctive of the Roosevelt policies, to which Taft undertook to adhere. He has profited by the failures and the inevitable mistakes of his predecessor and has therefore been able to continue that policy with even greater success and to show substantial results.

When Taft became President he found suits pending for the dissolution of several of the greatest trusts in the country. He has carried nearly all of them to a successful termination. Most important were the suits against the Standard Oil Company and the American Tobacco Company. In winning which he has secured leading decisions from the Supreme Court which define the meaning and scope of the law and furnish a guide to further legislation. The two most important decisions he has suffered are in the case of the Harriman merger and the beef trust, both of which he inherited from his predecessor. The Harriman case has not been finally decided, as an appeal is pending. The beef trust, which everybody believed to exist, although its existence seemingly cannot be proved to a jury beyond a reasonable doubt, appears now to be immune from legal molesting. Other trusts have been prosecuted in increasing numbers and the moral effect of the government's victories has been such that several of them have thrown up their hands and voluntarily dissolved as soon as suit was begun.

The success of the President's anti-trust policy is attested most forcibly by the attitude of his opponents. Early in his administration the late Chief Justice, Mr. Taft, was cited as evidence of weakness, with them. Wickersham has silenced these critics and has developed a new crop among the trusts themselves, who accuse him of injustice, "business" and running counter to "modern economic methods." The insurgents have ceased to accuse Taft of subservience to "the money power" and now dwell upon the necessity of regulation instead of dissolution of the trusts. Col. Roosevelt places more emphasis on the folly of regarding men size as an offense against the law than on the necessity of preventing even potential monopoly.

With much less noise, but far more vigorous and successful action, than marked the course of his present chief opponent, Taft has brought the trusts to the point where they beg for supervision, as the condition of permission to survive. We have reached the point where such Democratic newspapers as the New York World use praise of Taft's anti-trust policy as a club with which to belabor Roosevelt. The World says to him:

He has persuaded himself that to prosecute and dissolve the Standard Oil and tobacco trusts was to be progressive in deeds. To prosecute the directors of the beef trust and sugar trust, who previous to the Taft administration had enjoyed personal immunity, surely meant real progress. To put on trial for their lives the steel trust and the harvest trust was to be more progressive in deeds than to forbid their prosecution and to grant them the "Morgan interests" that have been so friendly to us" an executive license to absorb business competitors. To make big business understand once for all that it must square itself to the law against monopoly, and not expect special privileges in return for political support, was to be progressive in deed. To enforce the Sherman law through the courts and not to suspend it at private audiences in the White House was the proof of progressiveness.

The pretended progressiveness has been driven by Taft's progressive deeds to seek new and revolutionary policies as justification for their claim to the title for they are not critics of the one achievement of his administration which stands out above all the many others.

CARE OF IMMIGRANTS.

Chamber of Commerce Adopts Resolutions Urging Congress to Provide Proper Facilities.

Congress is urged to provide for the mental examination of arriving immigrants by physicians trained in the diagnosis of insanity and mental defect; for adequate facilities for the detention and examination of immigrants in whom insanity and mental defect are suspected; and for the safe and humane return to their own homes of those whom it is necessary to exclude, in resolutions adopted yesterday by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber, in preparing the resolutions, took into consideration that insanity, feeble-mindedness and other mental defects prevail to a very great degree in recent immigrants, resulting in their becoming public dependents; and that it is more humane as well as more effective to reject insane and mentally defective immigrants at the time of their arrival than to detain them after they have gained a residence in this country and have brought their families here.

The Federal statutes contemplate the exclusion of insane and mentally defective immigrants, although the facilities for the mental examination of arriving immigrants are inadequate, and the safeguards for the humane care of those deported are insufficient. Therefore the chamber took action to aid in remedying the defect yesterday.

IN THE INFERIOR COURTS.

SUPREME COURT'S LITTLE CORNER.

POLICE JUDGE "GETS ONE OFF" ON HIGH TRIBUNAL.

Pleasantly Sets His Hearers to Laughing but It Also Means Much to Man Behind the Bar—When Policemen Says "Move On" One Must Be Prepared to Act.

T. Whitman of No. 581 Menlo avenue, who owns an auto, learned yesterday, when convicted of a traffic violation, that under the ordinance Traffic Officer Wyman had the authority and power to arbitrarily make him "move on" with his machine, which, it was claimed by the prosecution, was obstructing an express wagon. And during the proceedings, when Whitman's attorney argued for clemency, contending that the court should show a degree of reasonableness in interpreting how the ordinance should be invoked, the lawyer was informed by Judge Williams:

"If I do that, use reasonableness. I will exceed my jurisdiction. You know the United States Supreme Court has decided it is the one to deal with the word reasonableness."

Attorney Mitchell saw the point and laughed heartily with the court. Even Whitman could not restrain a smile, although he realized that the court's decision meant a fine for him. Whitman's machine was standing in front of the Storey building on February 29. A Wells-Fargo expressman wanted to back into the curb. He asked Whitman to move his machine. The young man refused, alleging that there was enough room. When Officer Wyman asked him to move, Whitman turned on him with the remark:

"This is a free country. As long as I am in attendance upon my machine and am capable of operating it no one can make me move on."

In imposing a $5 fine, which was afterwards suspended, Judge Williams told Whitman that the next time an officer told him to "move on" with his machine it was his duty to obey at once.

GROCERS' AROUSED.

UNITE TO FIGHT CASE.

E. S. Potter, who conducts a grocery at No. 524 Temple street, refused to accept bail before Judge Williams in Police Judge Frederickson's court yesterday, that a writ of habeas corpus might be sworn out as a preliminary step in an action to test the State law which seeks to prevent grocers from selling goods which contain poison.

The man was arrested at the instigation of the State Board of Pharmacy for selling a poisonous rat paste. As almost all grocers in the city handle preparations complained of by the board, they are making a fight for Potter. He was arrested several months ago for a similar offense, but the complaint was dismissed because it was faulty. The arrest yesterday was on a new complaint.

While Potter's attorney was securing a writ from Judge Hutton in the Superior Court, Potter was detained in the courtroom. He then gave $100 bail.

PICKPOCKETS FLOATED.

CROOKS HERE FOR SHRINERS.

Sam McCormick and George Davis, two clever eastern "dips," were "floated" yesterday by Police Judge Williams. If they ever return to Los Angeles and are apprehended they will have to serve 180 days in the City Jail.

Judge Coughlin wanted to go to the fourth floor of the building, and McCaw refused to let him out of the elevator. McCaw was afraid Coughlin was a "stoolie" for the police seeking evidence against a club with quarters in the Germain building. The two men had some words and then a fight.
